IN attempting to present to the people of Coweta my little sketch of their history, I cannot claim anything like a correct account of all the transactions in our County, but in the main I think as far as they go are correct. The historical account of officers and members of the Legislature can be relied upon as correct. Having scarcely any records to refer to, most of it is made up from recollections and verbal information from others. I am satisfied of its correctness. I have sought much information that would be of interest, but have not been able to obtain it in a reliable manner, hence will have to leave out many interesting facts, hoping that my rough and inexperienced efforts may induce others in the future to keep a more correct history of our County, and that the next generation will have a complete history from this time on, and that much improvement may be made on my feeble efforts, and all will take a pride in furnishing a correct history of all passing events in the future as I have gathered the rough stones and heavy timbers from the quarry and the woods, some more polished architect will furnish a more beautiful history of Coweta.

THE AUTHOR.

HAVING, as before stated, gone through by each year and searched out the material to build with, and wanting a proper architect to fit and frame it together to make our efforts at all interesting, I have not attempted, if I possessed the ability, to eulogise any one, but have put all in the quarry of rough store and timber collected together, which is much greater than I anticipated at the outset, but we must not despair of getting through in our rough way.

We will notice in the first place our legal population, as it has come out much larger than we set out for—75. We have continued to increase it till we close with 103, out of which we have some quite favorable specimens from rough timber. We, I think, have furnished seven judges of our Superior Courts, for our own Circuit Court and United States District Court, which will do very well for so small a town (or city) as ours, and I will remark that all are from humble families—no wealth or ancestry to push any of them forward—but all have risen from their own merits and perseverance.

The first was his Honor Dennis F. Hammond, who is well recollected by many when he first commenced the practice of law in our city without wealthy friends or library to aid him, but by perseverance is now, after serving a term as Judge of our Circuit, a prominent lawyer at the Atlanta bar—all now recollect him.

The next is the Hon. John Erskine, United States District Judge for Georgia, who fills his station well and is well received by the bar and people generally. Newnan should feel proud of even having such citizens. We must be brief.

Our old and honored friend, Lucius H. Featherston, is next to be noticed. He was not a citizen when Judge of our Circuit, but now is, and is a respectable, able lawyer; has given satisfaction wherever he has been tried—never found wanting.

The next, Hon. John S. Bigby. Born and raised in Coweta, it is useless for me to say anything in his praise, for his works and legal abilities as Solicitor General and Judge of the Superior Court is too fresh in the minds of all to need even a passing notice from me, but that his history may not be omitted, all know how ably he sustained himself on the bench, which he resigned to fill a more exalted station as your immediate Representative in Congress from the 4th Congressional District of Georgia, and is now United States Attorney-General for the District of Georgia. Coweta should be proud of such legal ability and statesmanship as his.

The next in rotation is the Hon. William F. Wright, who served you faithfully in the Legislature and in your State Conventions with credit to himself and succeeded the Hon. J. S. Bigby as your Judge of the Superior Court. All know his legal abilities and fearless, independent course on the bench, at the bar, or for his friends, always ready to serve them honorably and faithfully. If he erred it was of head, not of the heart, but he has, like others, left us.

Our next to notice is the Hon. Hugh Buchanan. He has been partially noticed as a school teacher before, but we notice him now as your Senator in the Legislature of Georgia. On the battlefield in our late war, his record will compare favorably in any place with any of his comrades. He was elected to Congress by a considerable majority, in 1876, but was not allowed, under reconstruction acts, to take his seat, and had to be content, like many others, to be set aside. He succeeded Judge Wright as your present Judge of the Superior Court. His legal ability, impartial decisions and courtesy to all, need not be mentioned by me here; for they are written more indelibly in the hearts of the people than my feeble pen could describe them. It is only to perpetuate such names as his, and all I have mentioned hereafter, when we are laid cold, for our children to reflect upon and to take pattern from; for all of them were poor and have made themselves what they are by their own exertions at the bar and as useful citizens. None need be discouraged—the world is open to them now as it was to those who have now gone before. We have no hereditary aristocracy to build up anyone.

I have unintentionally passed the Hon. Walter T. Colquitt, our first judge and for three or four years a citizen of Coweta county, an honored judge and fine Christian preacher, Representative in Congress and Senator. Such men are scarcely ever found. His history is more fully written, as will be many others mentioned in your State history, than in Coweta's short history.

Let me here digress a little, and for the encouragement of all the little boys, tell them that our Governor, Alfred H. Colquitt, learnt crucifix in Coweta, and you can all follow his example. Who knows but what some other Coweta boy may become Governor of Georgia. Let some one set out for the prize—it is open to you as well as others. I would like to see some other of Coweta's boys fill the place he now does with credit to themselves.

The Hon. Owen H. Kenan, another of our lawyers, was judge, but not in our circuit, but was one of our lawyers at the time, should be mentioned, so I must add one more, making eight judges Coweta has furnished that is now recollected, besides others in other States from Coweta. We know of several others, but as ours is a local history, we must not run out after them.

There is always some change in the history of every thing. If I mistake not, one of our lawyers was stricken from the bar. I will leave that to our legal friends to find out their erring brother. Two others ran away. I will not mention any names or the crimes.

We might leave our lawyer friends here, but we are not quite done with them yet, as the little boy said—"Lie still; there is more to come yet," they were like some of the rest of us. When we all came here we were poor. There was at one time nine lawyers in town and but one of them owned a horse—no livery stable nor railroads then either. How they got about I will not now tell.

Before I begin on our lawyers generally, we will give our lawyer friends one other encouragement, that of the Solicitor-Generals from the Coweta Circuit—five of them have become judges.

The rest of our lawyers, after the Judges runaway, and we have a very respectable list left. If time and space would admit of personating of them we could make a very respectable showing—some of them have been Senators, and Representatives in the Legislature, and filled other responsible positions, and many would compare favorably with any bar in the State, while others are young, they may ascend yet to the uppermost round in the ladder. Your way is as clear and open as it was to any before you; you have your own destiny in your own hands, if you will manage it well you may yet be as honored as any that has preceded you.

The above will apply to our Doctors, we have had many eminent physicians among us, who have served long in our County, and have made for themselves characters and reputations that will live long after they are laid in the silent tomb, who were like most of the lawyers, started from nothing, so far as money was concerned, but have made money with their reputation, and can now retire to the younger men who has to succeed them. There has gone from Newnan and Coweta, Doctors to almost every State, some very distinguished ones among them. I dislike to personate any, or discriminate, but I will venture to name one who was born and raised in Newnan, that is an honor to such an honorable profession. I allude to Dr. Abner W. Calhoun, of Atlanta. Others are worthy sons of our County, that we should be proud to recollect them and greet them, were they to return to our county. I will not, if I had time, discriminate on others, I know of none who is not worthy of their profession, though we have had one hundred and seventeen in our County, now recollected, others may have been omitted unintentionally. It is a hard race between the doctors and lawyers, but the doctors have come out a head this time. We will leave them now for others.

We will here notice our merchants, and will say that our city and County, as a general thing, has been more controlled by local citizens and Georgians than any city of the same size I know of in the State. Turn to your present merchants, nearly all of them were born and raised in your County, (and I might say the same of your lawyers and doctors) together with all your county officers, with very few exceptions, are natives of your County, those that are not have married native wives, and we might say ours is a Coweta County and city in deed as well as in name. Another very remarkable thing about Coweta and her citizens and merchants, is, that all the capital we have has been made in our own County and by our own citizens, no foreign capital, or man of wealth, has ever come among us with his money, to aid us in any way, so what we are, if we cannot compare with Atlanta, we are a self-made (town, or) city, by our own exertions, and the capital we have produced at home. The same will apply to our hotels, workshops, schools and churches. Having digressed a little from our merchants, let any one turn to them, look into their standing and business character, and see if they will not compare favorably with the same number of business men in any county or city. None are close, penurious men, but are liberal towards each other and to their customers, not disposed to oppress any, for self aggrandizement, but ready with helping hands to all honest men, who are striving to do right. I must not omit to mention that one of our former merchants was honored with a seat in Congress from the 4th Congressional District, in the person of Col. W. B. W. Dent. His integrity, honest dealing, natural good sense, caused him to be chosen over honored professional men who had made some reputation as Statesmen and Congressional experience. He is the second merchant I recollect of, from Georgia, ever honored with Congressional honors. As I am only dealing in historical facts, will not indulge in anything like praise or eulogies of none. I think the above description of the merchants of Newnan will hold good with the merchants of Senoia and Grantville, and our country merchants, not leaving out Turin. I think I may now dismiss our merchants to take care of themselves.

We can not omit a short notice of our banks, which I believe has been doing business in our city for about ten years, meeting all demands upon them when ever called upon; no one ever losing a cent by any failure on their part to comply with their part of the contract; but the same I regret to say cannot be said of those whom they have accommodated with their money. The same may be said of them as of our merchants—they are Coweta banks, Coweta capital and Coweta officers, all owned and permanent in Coweta, which should reflect honor upon our County, that we have the capital and the men capable of managing of it in Coweta; showing we are not required to import men to manage our business. We might boast of two of Atlanta's best bankers, that used to live in our County, the Hon. John H. James, and J. F. Coker, were both poor boys when in Coweta, but are both now almost millionaires. Many others have gone from us, if we could locate them, that we would like to notice, but we will have to neglect it for the want of correct information about them and their location. We might mention the Hon. Samuel P. Thurmond, of Athens, who used to live here, a big awkward boy, now one of Georgia's leading lawyers, and a man of wealth.

We will here notice the election of Wm. B. Berry, as President of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, to succeed the Hon. John P. King, resigned, showing the business character of our fellow townsman. May he sustain himself as well as his predecessor, that we may all rejoice at his success, as a Coweta man of business. Many others whose notice we should like to give to the public, if we had their proper addresses, but have to omit them for that reason.

Our farmers are pretty much like our merchants, most of them are natives of Coweta; children of the older settlers, who have grown up with us. Over two-thirds of them were raised up here in the County, several that we could mention that started the world with nothing, that are now what any one could call wealthy, with every comfort necessary for their ease, to make them enjoy life. Our farmers are generally doing well, and our county is improving; in a few years, we will have overcome all our losses from the war, and soon ours will be the Empire State of the South, and Coweta will be over an average county in the State; and I here make the prediction, that the child is now born that will live to see the time, cotton gins and bales of cotton will be things of the past, like the rolling of tobacco. There is now but few living can tell of ever seeing a tobacco hogshead rolled from Buncomb, N. C., to Charleston, South Carolina, with raw hide traces. All our cotton will be manufactured from the seed at home, and the manufactured goods shipped off in lieu of the raw material. We are only in our infancy as a progressive people. Our county now has a population of 21,116; in fifty years who lives to see the census, then will see our county will have 50,000 inhabitants, and it will be a more prosperous county than now. Lands that are now selling for five to ten dollars per acre, will then sell for twenty-five to fifty dollars, and be more ready sale at these prices than the present. I make these statements not as historical facts, but to show they will be historical facts then, and that I know in 1880 make them, and put them on record.

We may here notice another of our county and city's history is the press or printing offices of our county, we have had more, perhaps, than most any other county or city of our size.

The first was in 1835, by Samuel W. Minor, the Coweta Advertiser.

The second, soon after the same year, by Mr. J. Nelson, name not recollected.

The third, the Polladium, by Charles F. Sherborn.

The fourth, the Transcript, by J. and F. M. Welch, afterwards changed to the Georgia Banner and Sentinel.

The fifth, the Blade, by T. W. Baton and F. D. Bowen, Esqs.

The sixth, the Literary Companion, by James Daves.

The 7th. Miss Barber's Weekly, by Miss Barber.

The 8th. The People's Defender, by J. Troup Taylor.

The 9th. The Newnan Herald, by J. A. Welch and J. S. Bigby; afterwards by Wooten and Welch, and is now in successful operation in our city.

The 10th. The Fly Leaf Quarterly, by College Temple girls.

The 11th. The Star, by Mr. Fish.

The 12th. The Newnan Blade, by T. J. Banon.

The 13th. The Newnan Leader, by Banon & Bro.

The 14th. Name forgotten, by Mr. I. Burch.

The 15th. The New Departure, College Temple girls.

The 16th. The Little Humbug, the biggest bug of all bugs, by the girls at College Temple.

The 17th. The Journal, formerly published at Senoia; went down for want of patronage.

The 18th. The Farm and Home, of Senoia, is now a flourishing paper. Edited and published by Rev. N. N. Edge. Success to him; may it live to catch any in Newnan.

The history of our papers, with very few exceptions, are recollected well by our citizens. Some have been well sustained; others died out for the want of patronage. The county, not needing so many, consequently were not patronized sufficient to sustain them. We should feel proud of a well regulated press, and well sustained. Many of our papers would compare favorably with any others of the same kind in the State. If we have omitted to notice any other paper, it is from not recollecting it, not wishing to leave out any one or any other historical fact in our county.

Since writing the above, we have received a copy of the Youth Guard, a succession of the New Departure, from College Temple, a neat, well printed paper, and well edited, making our 19th.

We also mention the change of the Newnan Herald, Judge Welch retiring and Capt. A. B. Cales succeeding him as editor of the Herald. We hope it will sustain its good character, and all will be proud to sustain it in the future as in the past.

I will here refer the reader to the list of all officers of the county and State officers in another part of this work: Your Judges, Solicitors of the Coweta Circuit; the Generals; your Senators and Representatives in the Legislature; your Judges of the Inferior Court of Coweta county; the Sheriffs, Clerks, Tax Receivers, Tax Collectors, County Surveyors, Coroners, Ordinaries, County Treasurers, City Councils, Mayors and Postmasters—all will be seen by reference to these lists.

I will mention that I failed to mention the election in the proper place of J. C. Evans as Major General of our Division. He was a citizen of Troup county, but had command in Coweta as Major General. He served up to 1861, when John M. Hill was elected Major General to succeed him. Thomas A. Grace was elected Brigadier General to succeed Gen. J. J. Neely, resigned.

I believe all militia officers have ceased, except some volunteers officers, which we have none to report from Coweta county, except the Newnan Guards. We hope they may eclipse their old namesake soon, and all will be proud we have such a company.

I now make my concluding chapter, after having gone through fifty-five years of our county's history, from the wilderness as it was then to the present position. It is interesting and solemn to contemplate on its past history; to remember the many good old fathers and mothers that have been with us that are now in their silent home, the grave, and many that have gone to other countries to make their homes with strangers, that we shall never meet again on this earth; it is a solemn reflection that soon all old historical facts will be remembered by none living and but few of them left on record. If my history shall prove worthy of reading by others and aid in perpetuating the early history of our county, I shall be content in having, in my imperfect way, collected the facts thrown together in so disjointed a manner as they are, be satisfied that the effort, feeble as it is, may cause some more competent to keep the history hereafter more correct, and that our history may yet be worthy of a place in every family in the county and many in other States and counties besides our own. Now in conclusion, let me make the contrast with our present situation and what it was fifty-three years ago, when we had no schools nor churches, and we were all living on dirt floors or split puncheons to our cabins, with one door and one room for cooking, eating and sleeping, and nearly all of us barefooted in summer from necessity of money to buy shoes—and those that had money could not get them, for they were not in the country to buy. We then rocked our children in hollow-log cradles: men, women and children would walk five miles barefooted to a Saturday night frolic, dance all night and go home with the gals in the morning. We then thought we were as big as big indian and as proud as anyone now with their red calico dress with a dozen tucks. All then nearly wore our own homespun. We felt proud of it, too: for it was home manufactory—no tariff on it to quarrel over as now. But we soon began to improve. A distinguished preacher not long since was talking to me about the early settlement of our county. He said when his father had gotten off of his dirt floor on a split puncheon floor he thought he was rising fast, and he let this preacher (then a boy) go with him to a neighbor's house, never before being away from home. That neighbor had built him a framed house, the first one he ever saw, and they were building a brick chimney to it, putting on one brick at a time. He thought they would never get it done that way. He said he looked on very much surprised and wondered if anyone else would build framed houses and brick chimneys. He afterwards got to be Justice of Peace in our county. Now what do you think of him? He has quit our county; left his dirt and puncheon floor, and has gone to Atlanta and is stepping about there with his two story hat on with those judges and lawyers like he had corn to sell—he did use to have in Coweta. This is applicable to many others of our old citizens.

I will mention one other circumstance. A young man coming to this county when he was but a youth was passing by about the first painted house I recollect of in the country. He was, he said, barefooted, for the reason his shoes had blistered his feet so he could not wear them—he had no socks; it was getting dusk, he wanted to stay all night, he sat down by the roadside to rest and think whether he could venture up to that house to get to stay all night or not, wondered in his mind if he would ever have a white house to live in, his heart failed him, he put on to a log cabin to stay all night; went on to Alabama; stayed there a few years, came back to Georgia and is now a citizen of our city, Newnan, and like our Atlanta man with his two-story hat and two-horse carriage to ride about in. I don't know whether he has any corn to sell or not, but it would be dangerous to step up to him and tell him he used to go barefooted in our county. I will say for him though now he owns several painted houses, so you see there is no telling the outcome of barefooted boys and girls. I could relate several incidents of young ladies, but I will not tell on them—it used to be against the rules to tell tales out of school. There is a tale on Joe Brown and his plowing a bull in Cherokee county. We can come nearer home. We have a man in Coweta that long before Joe Brown came to Georgia, the first year he came to Georgia rented land and was to give the third for the rent, and he plowed a steer and did make the third, so he quit farming and has been a corn buyer ever since. He has no two-story hat nor white house, so you see things don't work right for all or all don't work them right one. He has never been Governor nor Senator as Joe Brown with his bull has. Many other such cases might be extended to a volume itself were we to indulge in them. We will mention one other case of plowing the cattle kind. There was a case in Coweta where a man plowed his milch cow and milked her every day and made his crop. Others have made crops with their hoes and elbow grease alone, without any plows at all. Plowing is not the only thing to make the man. If it is not in him neither the bull, steer or cow plowing, or if he has a Sam Weller to plow, he will be minus without the brain otherwise to help him.

Time and labor work wonders in a country. Only little over half century ago we were in the wilderness, as above stated, now see what we are, (and behind others at that). We now have fine churches, schools, comfortable, fine houses to live in, and none need go barefooted. We have the facilities for the making of almost anything we need, have our farms well stocked, our factories, mills, and all in good order, with our railroads almost to any point, why should we not be contented and prosperous? Our ministers, school teachers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, bankers, mechanics, farmers, loafers, have plenty and in good health and sound condition. We need nothing more to make us prosperous and happy, but industry, perseverance, and soon, too, we can say Coweta is really the best place we know. People live long and enjoy good health, good neighbors, never scourged with an epidemic, famine or pestilence; then we should be contented. Imploring the continuance of Divine blessing upon us and our County, we close our story.

A HISTORY

FROM 1825 TO 1880.

1825.—COWETA COUNTY was formed out of a portion of the land purchased from the Creek Indians at a treaty held at the Indian Springs, in the county of Butts, in Georgia, on the 12th day of February, 1825, by David Meriwether and Duncan G. Campbell, as commissioners on the part of the United States, General William McIntosh, Col. Hawkins and others, chiefs of the Indians, to sell the lands to the United States for Georgia. General McIntosh, Col. Hawkins and others were killed by the Indians for selling the lands belonging to the Indians to the whites; others would have been killed if they had not made their escape through a back window and swimming the Chattahoochee River in their night clothes to make good their escape. The killing of General McIntosh was in Carroll county, at the reserve, at McIntosh's own house.

Coweta County received its name from a tribe of the Cherokee Indians, called the Coweta tribe, of which General McIntosh was the principal chief; this name will be perpetuated as the name of that tribe of the Indians, the former owners of the lands of Coweta.

Coweta County had originally nine Districts and extended up to near Sandtown, then in the county of DeKalb, but now in Fulton county, and before we leave this description of the County we can now only find one man who was in the County in 1825, that is Aquilla Hardy, in the Sixth District, now 85 years of age.

1826—was engaged in the surveying and partly drawing for the land. We don't know of but one man now living who settled in the county in 1826, that is Christopher B. Brown, who is now living on the same lot of land he settled on in the fall of 1826, and has lived there ever since, and is now well and healthy in his eightieth year. All others that were here in either of these years are either dead or moved away.

1827.—We now come to this year in which the town was settled at a place called Bullsborough, two and one-half miles north-east of Newnan, on the Fayetteville road, at which place the first election was held, which resulted in the election of James Hicks, John Guddice, John Underwood, Nicholas Dwyer and Cabel Fields, as Judges of the Inferior Court; Benjamin Easley, Sheriff; John S. Beavers, Clerk Superior Court; J. Pollard, Clerk of the Inferior Court; John Fleming, R. T. Returns, Josephus Echols, Tax Collectors; Charles Cleghorn, County Surveyor.

At the election on the first Monday in October, for members of the Legislature, James Hicks was elected Senator; George Pentecost, Representative.

The first Superior Court was held in Coweta at Bullsborough, Walter T. Colquitt, Judge; Samuel A. Baily, Solicitor-General.

The first Grand Jury was:

- | | |
|------------------------|------------------------|
| | 1. Isaac Gay, Foreman. |
| 2. Eli Nason, | 11. Moses Kelly, |
| 3. James Calwell, | 12. Lewis Pantill, |
| 4. Samuel Walker, | 13. Robert O. Beavers, |
| 5. Anthony North, | 14. Elijah Hammond, |
| 6. Edward Secour, | 15. John Colwell, |
| 7. Thomas Dyer, | 16. S. Green, |
| 8. Edward Reeves, | 17. John Kezer, |
| 9. Daniel Wester, | 18. Miles Wood, |
| 10. Nathaniel Nichols, | 19. Daniel Hull. |

1827—We have got our first set of officers and first court, but they don't serve long. On the first Monday in January there was the regular election day for county officers every two years, and every year for Tax Receiver and Collector, so that on the first Monday in January, 1828, was the regular election for Sheriff and Clerk, and Bradley Bell was elected Sheriff and Wm. A. Hicks Clerk Superior Court, Schon-House Clerk Inferior Court, John Flemming Receiver Tax Returns, Silas Reynolds Tax Collector, Charles Cleghorn County Surveyor, Wiley Jones Coroner. County Treasurer then was appointed by the Court, and we then had no Ordinary. The Inferior Court set as a Court of Ordinary for transacting ordinary business.

This will bring us to the location of the town of Newnan, which was done in February, 1828, and the lots sold on the 25th day of March, same year, ranging in prices from $611.50, the highest, down to $40.00, according to size and location. We are getting rather ahead of our business, we should first have given the name of our town or city, and why it was named Newnan. It was named Newnan in honor of Gen. Daniel Newnan, who served in the revolutionary war, and was a distinguished officer in the war of 1812, and fought well with Jackson against the Indians. He was a native of North Carolina, but at the time of the location of our town and naming of it he was a citizen of Georgia, and in 1831 he was elected on the general ticket to Congress, and afterwards was made Adjutant General of Georgia, and died in Walker county at about 82 years of age. Every one should respect his name and honor him for his services, and the merits due such a soldier and statesman.

We now have our town laid off, lots sold and the name given it, and why it was given its name. We will now give the name of most or all of the first settlers up to the first three or four years of our county as far as can be recollected or can be procured from others. We will hold open a space for all information we can get from others, and to do justice, we will take it by districts, beginning with the first district up to the ninth. It will be rather dull reading, but it will remind all of many old friends that have been among us in times past, and we should cherish their memory for all time:

We have now given generally all the names of the early settlers of our county.

1828.—At the time of the sale of the lots in Newnan, there were two squatter settlers in town, Wm. A. Hicks and James Caldwell, they both had houses of entertainment for travelers. Jacob L. and James A. Abrahams had a log cabin in the square with a store; this was all of Newnan then, and from that it has grown to its present size, 2,002 in population. We may speak of improvements as they occur to our recollection. The author purchased a lot in Newnan at the sale, and moved to Newnan one month afterwards for permanent settlement, and found the town had improved with the following settlements and citizens: Clark A. Roney, with a store where the First National Bank now is, and Thos. Roney, our first Postmaster. Wm. Low, Wm. W. Barrett, William Nemmons, Willis Kellgore, Richard M. Hackney, David Wright, Jeremiah L. Cheatham, Peter Hilton, John O. and Charles Dickson, as carpenters. Winchester Dumas as hotel keeper; Wm. Hunt, as tailor; Peter Henin, with his blacksmith shop, Peter Mercer, as his foreman, and his negro smith, Peter. James Hutchenson with a store on the west side of the square. Lawyers: William Daniel, John M. Thomas, Jas. Thompson, Josephus Echols. Doctors: James M. Lyons, J. Palmore, Levi T. Willborn. Messrs. Kellers and McGilvary, came to Newnan about a month afterwards with the fourth store. Your author erected him a blacksmith shop on the lot where the jail now stands. William Salsberry and John Willson, as brick mason, and with that noted steam saw mill, run by Robert Davis & J. Stewart, known as the whip saw; they would easily whip out their 500 feet of lumber per day. This is about the strength of Newnan for her first month after the sale of the lots; others came in constantly. The same year our old friend Joseph Williams came soon after; remained with us for over forty years, and moved to Cartersville, and died last January, in his one hundredth year. Also a Mr. King, from Tennessee, as brick mason; William and Stephen Hayse, as carpenters; William Terry, as hotel keeper. He bought out Winchester Dumas, and Mr. Dumas then settled the old Fisher lot, where Mr. Ormstead is now doing business, and opened another hotel. He had a large wooden goose for a sign. Mr. Terry, the same year, sold his hotel to that old prince of hotel keepers, John Dougherty. I could not say any thing to add to his history as a hotel keeper, as it is better known from himself than I could tell it, consequently we will let it speak for itself.

Mr. Terry then bought what is now the Virginia House, but has since went through many changes, as we will speak of hereafter. Peter Herrin bought an interest in Mr. Hick's hotel, and it was Herrin & Hicks, making four hotels this year. Dr. Palmore taught the first school in Newnan, in the Courthouse in the square, this year. Col. Zachariah Phillips settled in Newnan, and James Climmons, Col. Thomas A. Lathum was added to the lawyers. This will bring us to the election on the first Monday in October, for members of the Legislature. Joseph Shaw was elected Senator, Anothony North, Representative. At the Legislature that fall, they cut off from our County the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Districts, except two ranges of the Seventh and Eighth Districts on the south side, to form Campbell County. We have unintentionally passed over several things that should have been mentioned earlier this year. The First Methodist Church in the County was organized by our good old friend, father Wm. Stegall, in the Ballered settlement in February, of this year. He was on the circuit in Fayette County but came over and organized the church as above, so he informs me. The Rev. Willis D. Mathewes was circuit rider here then. The First Baptist Church in Newnan, was organized on the lot where R. D. Cole now lives, Rev. John Wood, as pastor. They have moved their church twice since, making their present one the third church. The Methodists now have their third church; it was first organized 1828, the same with the Presbyterians. Their church was organized out near Bullsborough, in June, 1828. What a change has passed since then; there is not but one minister of any of the different churches that were preachers then to answer to their names if called now, when this is read in 1880, and but two members of all the churches of Newnan that were members then to answer to their names; soon it will be entirely new organization of pastors and members; it might now be said so to be.

One other thing I will mention before I close, for 1828, that is a widow lady by the name of S. Griffin, with two children, came to Newnan, and a carpenter by the name of Leonard Griffin, came to Newnan; no relation to Mrs. Griffin, but boarded with her, and sickened and died in Newnan. It was the first death ever occurred in the town, his grave is unmarked and not known to any one where it is. This will close for 1828. If we are half as tedious in other years no one will read us through ; we must mention, though, before we leave this year, that Dr. Palmer did not teach school long, and Col. Thomas A. Latham succeeded him, as teacher, in the log cabin on the Square.

1829.—We will begin the year with elections, on the first Monday in January. Samuel D. Echols, Christopher B. Brown, Beniah McLendon, Dr. Levi T. Wellborn and Nicholas Dyer were elected Judges of the Inferior Court, John Fleming, R. T. R., Silas Reynolds, Tax Collector. This court let out the contract to build our court house. It was awarded to Capt. William Hitchcock, who, by vigorous work, completed it the same year. His principal brickmason was Capt. John D. Brown, his principal carpenter was Mercer Babb. Brown and Babb both became citizens of Newnan afterwards. Capt Hitchcock was then one of the foremost contractors in Georgia, there are now about twenty court houses, of his building, in Georgia, besides other work. Our academy was completed and ready for school this year. Col. W. B. W. Dent was the first teacher in our academy—he did not teach long—only part of the year. A circumstance occurred (not necessary here to mention) caused him to leave the school. He was succeeded by the Rev. W. Eming, a Presbyterian minister, who taught that year out, who left our town at the close of his school. I think returned to Ohio.

We will mention our lawyers. Col. Thomas A. Latham left Newnan for Campbellton, James G. Lyle, John Ray, William B. Cobb and William B. Pryor became lawyers of Newnan, and will be mentioned hereafter, and I might here say to our lawyer friends, as the boy said to his mother when he went home from muster, and was asked if he fired his gun as the others did, he loaded, though, every time, according to orders, he said, no, he was afraid. His mother told him to give her the gun, she would show him she was not afraid—raised the gun to her shoulder and fired away, it kicked her over flat on her back, the boy cried out, lay still mother, there is seventeen more loads to come yet ; so our lawyers may lay still, there is seventy-five more to come yet, before we get through with them. The same will apply to our doctors, there will be seventy-five more of them to report.

We will now turn to the doctors. Dr. Joel W. Terrell, Dr. Wheeler Randle, Dr. Wm. P. Echols, became citizens, this year, of Newnan. Dr. James M. Lyons left for West-Point, Ga. Dr. J. Head, should have been mentioned before, in the First District. There is seventy-five more to lay still. Winchester Dumas went into merchandising this year with his hotel business, but failed before the year was out. Earnest L. Whittick and Samuel McJunkin became merchants this year, in Newnan. Mr. A. Clark, of the firm of Clark & Roney, left for Campbellton. Dennis Sullivant took Clark's place with Mr. Roney. A. J. Berry came over from Bullsborough, this fall, to Newnan. Judge Keller and Miss Stokes were married in March, 1829. Richard M. Heckney and Miss Griggs were married this year, in Newnan, the first wedding, or marriage, ever occurred in Newnan. Mr. John E. Robinson and Miss Winkfield was the second. I will not attempt to keep all, for I don't know them. This year, 1829, we had our first drinking saloon, it was kept by Minor W. Harris, as proprietor. The first saddler's shop, this year, by Samuel Keller, but he was enticed off to Campbellton with the expectation of steam boats soon to be run there, but I don't think they have arrived yet; also, our first shoe and boot shop, by Willard and William Bradley. Mr. Salisbury sold out his brick yard to Capt. Hitchcock, and moved to Columbus. Two additional tailors, this year, Angus McIver and Charles Nelms. One painter, and our first, this year, Richard W. East. Col. George Pentecost was married to Miss Williamson, at Palmetto, but settled in Newnan. No deaths to record, this year, but one, a child of Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore, poisoned by eating jimson-weed seed.

The election on the first Monday in October; Samuel D. Echols was elected Senator and Dr. Levi T. Wellborn, Representative.

To make our history more complete, we should not omit to say that Walter T. Colquitt was our first Judge, and Samuel A. Bailey our first Solicitor-General. Judge Colquitt was a citizen of our County during his first term and part of his second; Judges, then, were only elected for three years. John W. Hooper was our second Solicitor-General, for three years.

We omitted, in 1828, to mention the election for Colonel and Major. Jacob L. Abrams was elected Colonel, and Andrew J. Berry, Major, but Gov. Forsyth refused to commission them, for the reason that he did not know that our population was enough to entitle us to a Colonel. He ordered an election for Major, and Nicholas Dyer was elected Major. After ascertaining we were entitled to a Colonel, he ordered an election for a Colonel and another Major. Weston Wood was elected Colonel, and Abraham Roberts, Major. Col. Wood soon resigned, and moved to Heard county. Major Roberts never uniformed, but moved away; I don't know where he moved to. The Justices of the Peace and Bailiffs not being courts of record, we will not attempt to keep them in our history, though, it would be interesting if we could get them complete, but that we cannot do, and will leave them out. I will mention one little incident. Willis S. Stunger, mentioned above, came to town, put up with Mr. Terry to stay all night, got up to go, and thinking he was on the lower floor of the hotel, and the upper piazza not being banistered, he walked out of the upper story. He said he thought it was the longest step he ever took, he got up not very much hurt, said he would not try it over again. Samuel D. Echols rented Mr. Terry's hotel, but did not continue the business long, he retired for Wm. Henry. Herrin & Hicks sold out to Levi Willcoxson, who became a citizen of Newnan.

I will mention here that James Powel, Sr. died down on the White Oak, in this — year of his age. A whole history might be written about the winding up of his estate, but I shall not attempt even a description of it. Deaths—Joseph Shaw, our Senator, died this year.

1830.—I think from the above we might begin with the election on the first Monday in January for county officers. Daniel Whitaker was elected Sheriff, William A. Hicks, Clerk of the Superior Court; Simon House, Clerk of the Inferior Court; John Fleming, Receiver of Tax Returns; Zachariah Chandler, Tax Collector; George Pentecost, County Surveyor; M. Dickson, Coroner. On Sunday night before the election one of the candidates made a regular barbecue and secured his election. Our second drinking saloon was opened this year by Benton Walton. James Wood came to Newnan with a stock of goods for Benjamin Barber and opened a store in Newnan. John W. Pentecost, Willard Fisher, George Scott, all were new merchants in Newnan this year. The country store were Turrentine & Cheek, Thomas Watson, in the Third District, B. O. & T. M. Jones, on Line Creek; John H. Johnson, in the Seventh District, Hugh Bruster in the Sixth, with some new-comers, Charles Telliver, Owen H. Kenan, Thomas White and others. We have gotten away from Newnan, but will return to it and say one of them seventy five lawyers mentioned above was added this year in the person of John T. Leftwick, who afterwards married a Miss Lane, a music teacher in Newnan, and two doctors, Dr. W. P. Rainey, Dr. Jeremsah Bell, who should before have been mentioned, Isham S. Rayney and Herbert C. Rainey as merchants. Colonel Thomas Hudson became a citizen of our county this year. Dr. Palmore left for Villa Rica, in Carroll county. Three additional carpenters, Thomas and Signa Moore, James Holstack: one additional blacksmith, Wilshen L. Shipp. Robert Shipp and Dr. Lowery opened a hatters shop—the first in Newnan. The population of Newnan was increased by A. P. Hunter and family, Joel Hick, Mrs. Pryor, old man Hicks, the father of all the other Hickses in town, Thomas Cooper, Samuel Hutchenson, Taylor, William Hunt—Hunt moved away—Samuel McJunkin, a merchant, though never a citizen. His clerks were Thomas Cummis and J. Cummis, King W. Perry and J. J. Penscn—Elkany Denson, with his cake shop, then a regular business. Charles Wheelan, a tailor, became a citizen this year. The old man Keber, a regular traveling tailor, was with us often for many years.

At the election on the first Monday in October, John McKnight was elected Senator, and John Terry, Representative. At the session of the Legislature they cut off a portion of the Third and Fourth Districts to Heard county, taking off our Sheriff and one of our Judges of the Inferior Court. David Wright, one of our carpenters, moved to Pumpkin Town, and William W. Barrett, another, moved to Whitesville, in Harris county. Robert J. Pinson came to Newnan this year as clerk for George Scott. Our old friend, Judge Berry and Miss Parks were married August of this year.

I fear I will be too tedious to give all the circumstances of our town, but I will mention one. A man by the name of John Huff, came to our town this year with three likely negroes, a horse, cart and yoke of oxen, with Abel Harrison as driver of this cart. Mr. Huff drank considerably; was a bachelor, and his negroes and cart could not keep him up. He wanted some money; he borrowed twenty-five dollars; put one of his negroes in pawn and to work until the money was paid back; gave his note as he thought for the money, but when he went to take up the note and redeem his negro, he was told that he had sold the negro; the man produced a bill of sale, all regularly witnessed, all right. He contended it was no sale—only a note given for the money. He sued for his negro, tendering the money he received, but was met with his bill of sale. He never recovered his negro. Soon after he was indebted to others a considerable amount. He sells his horse, cart and oxen and makes his escape between two days, leaving his creditors to shift best they could for their debts. Abel Harrison, for his wages of eight dollars per month, after several fruitless trips in search of Huff and his negroes, gave up his losses; but not willing to content himself over his losses, went over to Carroll county. The gold fever was raging pretty high. He rolled up his sleeves, pitched into work, and soon overcame his losses and made a handsome property, and was one of Carroll's representative men. Others should do likewise, and we would have less complaint of hard times, no bankruptcies or homesteads, it is the best cure for all of them that can be prescribed. In loss of the territory for Heard county we lost many other good citizens besides our Sheriff and Judge, and a very fine portion of good farming land, but we had to submit to it. Judge Brown is now living where he settled in the fall of 1826, is a comfortable good farmer, with plenty for himself and his old friends, when they call on him, don't know any other man living so long on the same place, now over half century. We close for 1830. Mr. Norman Bradly came to Newnan, this year, with his gin shop. His history, as will be remembered by many, and his only son, and child, Col. J. W. Bradly, will be mentioned hereafter, is now a citizen of Newnan.

1831—We open this year with an election on the first Monday in January. Henry Keller was elected Sheriff in the place of D. Whitaker, cut off to Heard; John Fleming, Receiver T. R; Zachariah Chandler, Tax Collector. This was rather a quiet year for Newnan, only one lawyer to add to the name we have to make up, J. Howard. No new Doctors; but I think two left our town, Drs. Bell and Rainey left. Three new stores this year—two young men by the name of Cowan, from Virginia, Willcoxon and McGilvany. James Wood bought out Sulivant & Roney. Mr. Sulivant moved to Columbus. Mr. Roney served the gentleman a while, and without taking leave of his creditors, left for parts unknown, with his bills yet unpaid. Mr. Wood became our second Postmaster.

Our late old friend, Thomas W. Batton, bought Mr. Terry's hotel, and his nephew, Dr. H. L. Lestergett, moved to Newnan and took charge of it, and kept it for three years. Benton Walton sold his first drinking saloon to George E. Smith, and built another, at present occupied by Sam Leigh, making our third drinking saloon. Then it was common for all stores to keep liquor to sell in any quantity. John S. and Wm. M. Storey, as blacksmiths, have been omitted unintentionally before in their proper place, and now Peter Hurston and John S. Storey, Jr., must be added to them. Minor W. Harris sold his confectionery to Willard F. Taft. Mr. Harris left Newnan, Mr. R. M. Hackney moved to Fayette county, but did not stay but one or two years. He will be mentioned again.

The population of our county was considerably increased this year in the families of Robert Russell, James Russell, Wm. Russell, Robert Y. Brown, James Brown, Uncle Abraham Carmichael, and several others of the Carmichaels; James Thompson, Leonard Peak, Edward Pass, James Gray, Hosea Gray, James Bixly, Hir'm Camp, George Hendrix, Elisha Simms (his widow is now living in our county in her 85th year), Richard and Rev. Chas.

Levit, Dr. I. E. Smith, George Smith, James Eckless, and others not now recollected, except a family by the name of Austin came to Newnan from Columbus, all sick, one child died, and when their health improved they moved away; don't know where to.

We will now keep our record of elections. On the first Monday in October Samuel D. Echols was elected Senator and James Wood as Representative. Several things as we reflect have been omitted. The Rev. Joseph Y. Alexander moved to our town, took charge of the Academy as teacher and taught until 1843, including said year, and was pastor of the Presbyterian Church until 1851. More will be said of him hereafter. The Rev. James Davis, I think, this year settled in Newnan, and was pastor or supplied the Baptist Church for several years.

The vacancies of Col. Winston Wood and Major Roberts was filled by the election of John W. Pentecost, Colonel, and John Jester as Major.

This year there was considerable excitement in gold speculations, in Carroll county lands, for gold, and some in Coweta became excited in it. A man passed through Newnan on his way in search of a gold mine, stopped for dinner and to have his horse shod, and after leaving, the hotel keeper found a paper he dropped in the hotel, revealing his business, what lot he was after and where the man lived who drew the lot. In an hour afterward there was a company formed to beat the first man to the drawer's home, down on the Florida line. None was willing to undertake the trip. At two o'clock in the evening they came to Wm. U. Anderson, at his blacksmith shop, the author, with a fine tale and a fortune ahead, if he could only beat the other man to the drawer's home, in Decatur county, with a promise of a full share for his service, if he succeeded. He replied, if he could buy a certain mare, in town, he would try it. He went and bargained for the mare, for $150, but when the owner found what he wanted with her he refused to stand to the trade, and would not let him have her at all. By this time all were determined not to be defeated. One of the party had a good old horse, he said he had never failed yet, take him and be off; so, by four o'clock in the evening, Anderson was off. Took supper in Greenville, and next morning, breakfast in Tolboton, that second night lodged one hundred miles from Newnan. Next morning, by daylight, him and the old horse was on the road. The horse seemed as if he was as much interested as any one, in the race, he distanced his man over one hundred miles. The first man found he was so far distanced, and heard the drawer had moved, turned back to hunt him up. Anderson went to the drawer's old home, found him gone, and no gold, but, not discouraged, started in pursuit of the drawer, to Laurens county, but, on his return, on Tuesday morning, he found his first man had turned back from then, Saturday morning, giving three days ahead, he gave it up, come home, like all other gold hunters, minus his ride and expenses for nothing.

The night after Anderson left it was found out what was up, and that the drawer had a brother living in Coweta, and a third company was formed, and the brother of drawer, ready for a daylight start next morning to get the land from his brother. He reached him, told him he wanted to buy his land in Carroll. He said he had sold it to their brother-in-law, a Mr. Burch. He proposed to Burch to buy the land. Burch inquired about the gold in Carroll. He told him he did not know of any; he never was in Carroll at all, and finally bought the land for $25 and the grant fee, what it cost Mr. Burch. Thinking all was safe, he wanted to rest a while, and lays over until Monday morning to draw the deed, and they went to a Justice of the Peace to draw the deed. By this time the first man was there, and found there was no deed, he offered $200 for the land, the brother of the drawer offered $250, the first man bid $300 on it. Mr. Burch said if they were trying that way to swindle him, none of them should have it. Mr. Burch had never had his deed recorded. The drawer and his brother, from Coweta, went home and the drawee makes a second deed to the land to his brother from Coweta, he hurries home to Newnan to make a deed to a third party, then pushes off to Carroll and has it recorded. The true owner of the land comes on, goes to Carroll, examines the land, and, not being much of a gold hunter, was not much excited over it, returns. On his way home, in Newnan, the company having the second deed gets him off and secures him from access to any other person, buys his title for $500, he takes his money, goes off, I expect, well satisfied, but the trouble was not over, part of the company goes over to Carroll to test the lot, and was not very well pleased with their trade, and wanted to make money out of it, sinks a pit and gets some gold and (salts the pit, as it was then called) came home, and proposes to sell out to the other part of the company, gets some of them to go and try the pit they had sunk, found the gold, and thought it was very rich, buys out four of the company for $300 each, making $1,200 for one-half the lot. When they came to try other pits and this old one, it did not pan out well. Suspicion was raised that there was foul play, and it leaked out that the parties who had sold out had bought about the amount of gold that was found in the salted pit. Then the trouble begun, to get rid of the payment of the notes for the purchase of the interest sold. It was in law for some time, and finally abandoned, as a gold mine, and it lay for several years, finally Mr. Bonner bought the lot for what the parties concluded it was worth for farming. He, Bonner, has thoroughly tested it, and its history is better known than I could describe it if I were to try, which I will not do. This is about all Coweta has had to do with it. We will leave Mr. Bonner and his gold mine.

We have omitted, in our early part of our history of our County, to say we had a regular Beecher case in our town, and a Belknap case, but neither was ever prosecuted, and they died out, and all the parties are dead and moved away, and we will let it pass with the things that are gone.

Col. John Dickson, an old citizen and Elder in the Presbyterian church, died this year, his age not known, but was quite old, about eighty years of age, an old revolutionary soldier.

1832.—It must be recollected that in those times we had annual elections for members of the Legislature, and some county officers, hence we begin and end with elections generally each year.

David Dukes, was elected Sheriff; George Pentecost, Clerk Superior Court; Richard W. East, Clerk Inferior Court; John Flemming, Receiver Tax Returns; Shenod Rowland, Tax Collector; Wily Jones, Coroner; County Surveyor not recollected.

This was a quiet year; no change of hotels nor stores recollected, except the Mr. Cowans left our town. No lawyers to add this year; one was married—Mr. James Thompson and the widow Hyatt; William T. Williamsen and Miss E. Philips were married this year. Mr. A. M. Gilchrist, Clerk for W. Fisher. James H. Campbell, with a negro workman, started the first wagon shop Newnan ever had. John and Charles Dickson moved to Greenville. Anderson D. Abrahams came to Newnan this year and went into the ice business; but made a good failure; never saved a pound of ice till warm weather.

Jacob L. and Anderson D. Abrahams went into merchandising, with a new store this year. This year we had the first temperance barbecue on the Fourth of July, and the first public speaking on temperance, I ever recollect of hearing. The Rev. Dabney P. Jones made about his first temperance speech at that time; from that his temperance lecture began.

Mrs. Bird, afterwards Mrs. Napier, of Macon, taught school with the Rev. J. Y. Alexander; the first female teacher ever taught in Newnan. Winchester Dumas, Jas. Colwell, John Colwell, all moved, I think; to Walker County; Col. William B. W. Dent moved to Franklin; John T. Leftwick moved to Franklin.

On the first Monday in October, Samuel D. Echols was elected Senator, Dr. I. E. Smith and James Wood, Representatives. Mrs. Keller, wife of Judge Keller, died this year. Our old friend, James Watkins, became a citizen this year of Coweta, and many others not now recollected.

We have a new Judge of the Superior Court and a new Solicitor-General; Gresby E. Thomas, Judge, and J. P. H. Campbell, Solicitor.

Wm. B. Cobb moved to Campbell County and W. B. Pryor to Troup, so we are three lawyers out this year. Willcoxon & McGilvary, closed their merchandise this year. George Scott sold out to Pheneas and Thomas Moore. Charles Wheeler, tailor, and Dr. Wm. P. Echols both moved to Alabama.

The election on the first Monday in October, Samuel D. Echols, Senator; Dr. I. E. Smith and James Wood, Representatives.

One change in hotels this year. Mr. Wilcoxon rented his hotel to Mrs. Phillips and Wm. T. Williamson, who will be remembered by many old citizens.

David Dukes, Sheriff, left very suddenly, not even notifying his securities, leaving them to settle his delinquencies as Sheriff; his other debts are yet unpaid. It is hardly necessary to speak here of our churches, but I will say the First Presbyterian Church was built this year, but all of the churches have changed three times each, and each one now has their third church, but none on the original church lots.

Benjamin Barker sold out his goods and closed business in Newnan. Batty H. Mitchel came to Newnan and started our second saddle and harness shop. His history is as household words to all, up to his death in December, 1879, in his eighty-first year; more will be said of him in the various offices he filled in our County.

Mr. Jacob L. Abrams and Miss Parks were married this year. James Fleming, clerk for A. J. Berry. Mrs. Mary Winkfield Robinson, consort of John E. Robinson, born 1813, died 1833, aged 20 years.

Dr. Cannon H. Shipp commenced merchandising, this year, in Newnan. Major Hugh Brewster and Antoney North merchandised at A. North's, on the McIntosh road. John Carington at the Cross Roads in the first. William W. Sillman on little Whiteoak. All merchants then in Coweta.

1834.—On the first Monday in January, Nicholas Dyer was elected Sheriff, George Pentecost, C. S. C., Daniel Mosley, Clerk of the Inferior Court, John Fleming, R. T. R., Zachariah Chanler, T. C., Sihon House, County Surveyor, John Kelly, Coronor. The Legislature of 1833 made a new circuit, called the Coweta Circuit, and Hiram Warner, Judge, and Young J. Long Solicitor-General, both are well remembered by many old friends; they will be mentioned again. Our lawyers are beginning to scatter, James Thomson moved to Walker county, and was soon elected Senator from that county, and died, in Milledgeville, during the session of the Legislature; all may see his tomb in the graveyard there, now. James G. Lyle moved to Alabama. Reuben Echols, Michael Dickson moved from our County. Mrs. Phillips and Williamson retired from the hotel. Major William A. Terrell succeeded them. Dr. Lestergett left Newnan for Altoona gold mines and Charles F. Sherburn succeeded him in the hotel. Samuel McJunkin closed out his merchandise business; Jacob L. and Anderson D. Abrahams dissolved copartnership; A. D. Abrahams went to South Carolina; Dr. Wimbush left also. Carpentering was very dull this year; two of them left—Segna and Thomas Moore. Cordial T. Willburn established the first buggy and carriage shop in Newnan this year. William U. Anderson sold his blacksmith shop to Peter Hurston; went to the country, three miles north of Newnan, and settled the place now owned by James Brewster. Tailors and shoemakers—no change in them this year. William F. & E. M. Storey located the second tannery in Newnan, previously having one out on Wahoo creek. Judge Keller left town and settled Willow Grove, (at present the home of our old, respected friend, James Watkins) and merchandised there two years. William Nimms, Esq., became our third postmaster. William B. Word, saddler.

On the first Monday in October Samuel D. Echols was elected Senator; Dr. I. E. Smith and James Wool, Representatives. The Legislature this fall elected James Wood Brigadier General to fill Gen. Sledge's vacancy by resignation. I will have to keep things correct, and make our history more complete. I will mention our first general officers. They did not live in our county, but had command here. Samuel Armstrong Baily was our first Major General; J. Sledge was our first Brigadier General, with the lamented Fannin, of the Fannin and Ward Massacre in Texas, as his brigade inspector. We should always remember him for his superior abilities as a drill officer.

Several additional citizens this year: Col. Littleton Spivey, Pelig S. Mason, Mathew H. Pentecost, Thomas Hughey, James T. Hughey, Wm Bilbo, Robert L. Newman, Ansel B. Leigh and his sons, who are now with us, but the father has passed away as others. Jackson Neely and John Goddice moved from our county, and William and Charles Cleghorn also moved away.

We now have to mention the execution of Harrison Southerland for the killing of J. Hillsman. It was the first death sentence in our county. Other murders were committed; some were never arrested and made their escape; others were tried, but come clear. The first murder I recollect of in the county was the killing of J. Cowden on the St. Cloud road, about two and a half miles from town, by — Waters and Samuel A. Dennis. Mr. Dennis stood his trial and was acquitted; Mr. Waters was never arrested—made his escape.

Major Beverly D. Thompson commenced the practice of law in Newnan after being a school teacher for seven years in the county. Many of our lawyers have been school teachers in their time, and some of the doctors also.

1835 - On the first Monday in January, John Hardeman was elected Receiver of Tax Returns, John Carrington, Tax Collector. He collected the money, and like David Dukes, Sheriff, mentioned, left his securities to settle his defalcations, and went to parts unknown. E. M. Story was elected Major. It was the beginning of his military life. We shall have occasion to mention him several times before we get through. There were several changes in lawyers this year. Josephus Echols moved to Columbus, Ga., Ebenezer McKenly came to Newnan, and Robert S. Burch. Mr. Burch has moved away and back again three or four times. We hope he is now a permanent citizen in Newnan. Dr. Levi T. Wellborn moved to Eufaula, Ala., where he died. Dr. Leroy Holt came to Newnan, remained about two years and moved away.

Several changes of merchants this year. Cannon F. Shipp sold out to Hughey & Killgore, and they the same year sold their goods to Peter E. Duncan, and he removed them to Duncan Town, which has gone down, and is now known as Macedonia church. Elisha and Josiah Brown became merchants in Newnan this year, and Richard M.

Fletcher, James A. Abrahams, sold out to William F. & E. M. Storey, and they commenced this year in business. Phineas & Thomas Moore sold out to Nemmons & Terrill. Willis Killgore became postmaster—our fourth. Two changes in hotels—Thomas W. Batton succeeded Mr. Sherburn. Major Terrell failed and Mr. Bolton rented his house and closed it up. Benton Walton sold his grocery and moved to Augusta. John D. Hinton merchandised in Newnan this year. Jacob L. Abrahams closed business as a merchant. John W. Pentecost moved his store up on Cedar Creek, above Sewel Mills.

William U. Anderson sold out in the country, returned to town, built him a two-story blacksmith shop on the corner where Mr. Burpee's leather store now is; rented the upper part to Donaldson & Harris for a carriage shop. Charles S. Anderson added another to the blacksmiths. John S. Storey left for Carrol county; William M. Storey went to the country about five miles from town.

Samuel W. Minor came to Newnan and published the first paper ever published in Newnan. Name of paper Coweta Advertiser. He left our town. We will not give the reason for his leaving for fear we cannot give the correct one. As many rumors were in circulation about his leaving, we will leave them unexplained.

Mr. ——— Nelson came afterwards the same year and established the second paper. In the fall he sold out to C. F. Sherborn, who afterwards published the Palladium, which we will notice hereafter.

On first Monday in October, Samuel D. Echois, Senator; Dr. I. E. Smith, James Wood, Representatives. King W. Perry and Dorothea Owens were married this year.

Mr. Isham Huckleby died this year in the Fourth District, aged ninety-three years. He was a faithful, good Revolutionary soldier. May all such be long remembered and respected for their services—no other deaths now recollected.

1836—Well, as usual our elections on the first Monday in January. Richard B. Wooten was elected Sheriff. Geo. Pentecost, Clerk S. C., David Mosely, Clerk Inferior Court, John Hardeman, R. T. B., Silas Reynolds, Tax Collector, John Kelly, Coroner, County Surveyor not recollected. John Bowen was our Postmaster, the 5th. Some new lawyers: Young J. Long formed a partnership with B. D. Thomasson. William U. Anderson bought out Willcoxson's hotel and opened it on the first of the year as a hotel.

This was a year of excitement in the Florida and Creek wars. Wm. U. Anderson raised a company for the Florida war, but the requisition from Georgia was filled before his report was received by the Governor. Anderson resigned the command of the company and went into other business, but was soon ordered to the Creek war. He called out the company, read his orders to them, and stated to them he would not attempt to assume command of the company unless re-elected. Others, outsiders, who had no business with the company, assumed that they had orders to disband the company, and caused some trouble. Anderson wrote to Governor Schley on the subject. He replied no one had authority to disband the company, but he would countermand his order for the company to march to the Creek war, but ordered another company, raised by draft or voluntary enlistment. Anderson was acting as Adjutant for Col. Pentecost. He received the orders and ordered out the regiment in three days for a draft, which caused considerable excitement. Many went to Col. Pentecost to know what it meant. He replied he could not tell until he saw his Adjutant; if he was right in what he had done he would sustain him, if not he would dismiss the regiment and let them go home. When he came to town he found all right. The regiment was formed by the Adjutant and turned over to Col. Pentecost. He read the Governor's order to them, and advised voluntary enlistment rather than a draft, saying to them Coweta should never submit to a draft. Major Story followed in a speech, urging volunteers. Anderson followed Major Story, showing others had no authority for interfering with his first company, and stated to them he was again a volunteer, and dismounted, and called on all who was in favor of saving Coweta from a draft to follow him, ordering the drum and fife to beat up and down the regiment. Major Story followed him, and they soon had 83 volunteers. The regiment was then dismissed and the company marched to town, held their election for officers, which was as follows:

Wm. U. Anderson, Captain.

Edward M. Story, 1st Lieutenant.

Daniel C. Turrentine, 2d Lieutenant.

Calvin T. Jones, Ensign.

Non-commissioned officers, with the list of the company, in five days they were on the march for the field of battle.

But we must not here say all. The patriots of Coweta belonged to the infantry company of Anderson, but on the same day they raised a cavalry company of 83 men, and elected

Gilbert D. Greer, Captain.

Pleasant A. Lawson, 1st Lieutenant.

Nicholas Dyer, 2d Lieutenant.

Beverly D. Thompson, Ensign.

The following is a list of the Companies, Infantry and Cavalry:

William U. Anderson, Captain.
 Edward M. Storey, First Lieutenant.
 Daniel C. Turrentine, Second Lieutenant.
 Calvin T. Jones, Ensign.
 A. P. Hunter, First Sergeant.

Both companies marched to Columbus, Ga. The cavalry company was mustered into service on the 6th of June, and the infantry on the 7th day of June, 1836, for three month, unless sooner discharged. The cavalry, while in Columbus, was organized into a battalion, and elected Julius C. Alford, from LaGrange, Major. We remained in Columbus two or three days, and we were ordered up to West Point, Ga, with General James Wood, as our commander. We had there seven companies of infantry, composed of the following counties: Major E. N. Calhoun as Brigadier-Inspector.

Captain Anderson, Coweta.

Captain Parr, Carroll.

Captain Camp, Campbell.

Captain Jones, DeKalb.

Captain Mam, Fayette.

Captain Still, Fayette.

Captain Dent, Heard.

We were organized into a battalion and elected William Wood, of Heard County, Lieutenant-Colonel; John Chambers, of Carroll County, Major; Nicholas Tompkins, Adjutant. But few of the above list can now answer to their names if the roll was called. In a very few more years all will have answered to the last earthly roll call. Having somewhat digressed from Coweta to give the short sketch of our campaign in 1836, we will now return to Coweta and give the reception of Captain H. Garmaney's first company from Gwinnett County. On their return home, on the 26th June, as they passed through Newnan, from the Creek War, stopped at Newnan. Their visit was thus noticed in the Newnan Palladium, taken from White's Statistics of Georgia.

We now notice the election on the first Monday in October: Samuel D. Echols, Senator; Dr. I. E. Smith and James Wood, Representatives. Nothing much of interest in our County this fall, except some changes in merchants, Keller & Watkins; a new store in Newnan; Dr. Watkins & Hugh Houston, at Willow Grove; Coleman & Huggins, at Oak Lawn; Skein & Brother, up on county line; Turrentine & Levell, in the First District; Sanders W. Lee, in the Second District; John H. Tinch, on White Oak; S. J. Harber in the Fourth District, is about all the changes in merchandise recollected. John B. Tendal, on Cedar Creek and several of the Randals in the Third District; Major Holland, Mr. Wadsworth, with his tan yard, and many other changes not now recollected; but we must not forget Charles Emlin's cabinet shop, and John Hall's thrashing machine factory; it was then common for all to do their own thrashing at home in their gin houses. Samuel S. Mayors died 1836, Sixth District.

We will here mention the death of one of our earlier settlers of Coweta, who was cut off just over the line in Heard County, Major James Wood, a revolutionary soldier and gallant officer in said war, died 82d year of age. Willard Fisher died this year; age not known.

1837.—We begin 1837 with our January elections—Samuel D. Echols, Henry Keller, John B. Tendal, James

McClure, Sanders W. Lee, were elected Judges of the Inferior Court; John Hardeman, Receiver Tax Returns; Silas Reynolds, Tax Collector.

We have a new Judge and Solicitor this year; or rather the re-election of Judge Warner, and Col George D. Anderson, from DeKalb, as Solicitor. Thomas Hughey, as our sixth Postmaster; some change in lawyers. Robert S. Burch, Wiley G. Parks, Eddy Ware and Philip Ware, left our County and others not now recollected. Charles F. Sherbern closed his Palladium this year.

Some new merchants and changes: Kilgore & Reynolds, Wm. U. Anderson, merchants: Mr. W. Fisher's business was wound up this year; John and William B. Brown, merchants; John Brown soon left for the low country for his health—did not live long down there; Geo. T. Anderson, as a blacksmith; Valentine Harden & Sons, as carpenters; William J. C. Kenada, as clock and watch repairer and jeweler; Elam S. Ashcroft, as carpenter; he tried the broom business, but made a successful failure at it. Col. John W. Pentecost died the early part of this year, and E. M. Storey was elected Colonel to fill his vacancy; Daniel C. Turrentine was elected Major. We will now mention that William G. Kobb, who killed Mr. Easterwood down on the State road, at Mr. Jackson's grocery; all well recollect it and his trial, and I need only to mention it. Our first Female Academy was built this year, and the Misses Chamberlains were the first teachers. They had a fine school. They were succeeded by the Misses Bakers; one of them afterwards married a missionary and left us. Mrs. Martha M. Pinson died 1837—E. C., 6th district.

This will bring us to the election. On the first Monday in October Samuel D. Echols was made Senator, and Dr. I. E. Smith and Nicholas Dyer, Representatives.

John Neely was 93 years old at the time of his death. He received nine scars in his head in the revolutionary war. T. F. Jones, Tax Receiver for 1877-'78, was wounded at Morristown, East Tennessee, in the left groin, and bone broke near the shoulder joint, October, 1864.

The general officers of the militia were then elected by the Legislature, and Willis Kilgore was elected to fill Gen. J. Wood's vacancy by resignation.

Wm. W. Sellman was a merchant in the first district, and Miles Jones in the sixth district. King W. Perry moved out on Line Creek to merchandise and farm. We will mention the marriage of Col. E. M. Storey to Miss D. Owen, and Mr. J. J. Pinson to Miss Mary A. Reynold. Both married this year.

J. J. Pinson bought out William Nemmons, of the firm of Nemmons & Terrell, and it was then that Pinson & Terrell and George Scott left our county for Alabama. John D. and Seaborn Hinton sold their mills to Mrs. Ann C. Wilkins this year. She will be remembered by many old settlers. Seaborn A. Hinton moved to Walker county, and John D. Hinton to Mississippi. Michael and Asa Dickson moved to Walker county.

1838—The election of county officers was Thos. Hughey Sheriff; Batty F. Mitchell, Clerk Superior Court; David Mosely, Clerk of the Inferior Court; John Hardeman —; Jesse Rhodes, Tax Collector; John Kelly, Coroner; George Pentecost, County Surveyor. Not many changes in business this year in Newnan. William U. Anderson sold out his hotel to Col. William Sellman, and he succeeded him in the hotel business. Marshel Sheets moved from our county. Lawyers about the same, except Robert W. Simms commenced the practice of law. Dr. A. B. Calhoun will be recollected as taking a trip to France for a course of lectures in medicine by many now. John B. Tendall, one of the Judges of the Inferior Court, died August 30, 1838. This year the Cherokee Indians were removed from Cherokee Ga. One company from Coweta, commanded by Capt. E. M. Storey, was engaged in their removal. Augustus H. Stokes was a Colonel in that campaign from Coweta.

Richard M. Fletcher closed business this year in Newnan and moved to Carroll County. Albert Sears became a citizen of Newnan, this fall, whose history, as a money dealer, is familiar with all, and will be long remembered. Our members to the Legislature were Dr. I. E. Smith, Nicholas Dyer, Gilbert D. Greer, Representatives. This will about close 1838, as far as recollected at present. The Legislature, this fall, elected Hugh A. Haralson, Major General, and he appointed Col. E. M. Story his Division Inspector.

1839.—We now commence this year with the election of Live Newton as Tax Collector. There was considerable change in business this year with merchants. Keller & Watkins failed, William U. Anderson moved his goods to Marietta and closed business in Newnan; sold his house and lot where H. J. Sargent now lives to Davis Owen, who became a citizen in Newnan. He (Anderson) moved to the lot north of the Methodist Church and improved that lot. Judge Ishmael Dunn was a citizen that ought to have been mentioned sooner—not too late yet. He only lived in Newnan a few years and returned to Fayette county. We must mention though that while he was in our county, our old friend, Major T. A. Grace married one of his accomplished daughters and retained her as a citizen when her father left. William U. Anderson this year bought out C. T. Wellborn's carriage shop, on what is called Bay street, and took up his old trade of blacksmithing with the carriage business.

It was remarkably dry that fall—all will recollect it—we could not get any grinding done except at the river mills, and they were so crowded it was about a week's trip to go to mill and get grist of meal. Anderson & Martin built a horse mill in Newnan, or rather started it just by hand with two cranks. It was kept running nearly day night, and they afterwards geared it up for horse power, and ran it for some time, but rains came about Christmas, and took their custom off, so they abandoned horse-power. We had no steam-power then in the country; everything was hand work. We made our wagons, carts and all our plows, axes, farming tools at home. We had our smoke-houses at home, and corn-cribs in our horse lots, and if a neighbor had to buy corn or meat, he did not go to Tennessee or Ohio for it. He went to his neighbor and got his supplies. We then lived at home and boarded at the same place; had our washing done in the yard. Now contrast that with the present. All our workshops are now run by steam, and most of them are in the Northern or Western States. I need not say to the people which is the best plan those days or the present. If I was to claim those good old times, I would be dubbed an old fogey, and it would be said I would do as our fathers did—carry a pumpkin in one end of the bag and a rock in the other; but I think the next generation though will get about right, and we will have our shops, corn cribs and smoke-houses at home again—our country will be at home once more. I think we are improving very fast considering what we have went through in the last nineteen years. We will not complain but hope for improvements. Much more might be said, but the above is as much as we have space for at present.

John D. Brown and Daniel Whitaker went into the grocery and liquor business this year in Newnan. Hugh Houston was killed by lightning on Sandy Creek. Watkins & Houston closed business at Willow Grove; John and James Turner and James Watkins, jr., moved to Texas; William A. Speer bought out Keller & Watkins goods in Newnan; soon after sold them to Heard & Philips; many will recollect the firm, it did not last long, but resulted in several law suits in Alabama, where part of them were overtaken in making their escape with their negroes.

The Reverend Robert Fleming became the teacher in our Female Academy. John A. Fleming succeeded the Hon. Hugh Buchanan in the Academy.

General James Wood left our town for Columbus in 1837. Should have been mentioned sooner, and Constantine W. Buckley, a prominent young man, left with him. They did not stay long in Columbus, but went to Texas, on a pigeon-roost money speculation. C. W. Buckley returned to our town in 1838 and married Miss Jane Phillips and returned to Texas; became a prominent lawyer there, and was Judge of the Superior Court, and was unfortunately drowned in attempting to cross a creek which was very much swollen. He and his horse were both washed down the creek and drowned in the prime of his life.

Grace & Long were merchants in Newnan this year; B. D. Thomasson, a lawyer, left Newnan for Franklin; old man Norman, the seedman, came to our county about this time and remained until 1856, and moved to Florida, but did not stay there ten days; returned to Thomas County and died there. His family returned to Newnan and will be remembered by many.

This brings us to the election of our members to the Legislature on the first Monday in October: Dr. I. E. Smith, Senator; Dr. A. B. Calhoun, Gilbert D. Greer and John Jester, Representatives.

Charles Emben and John Holl broke up their shop; Josiah and Elisha Brown closed business and left our town. Noel B. Knight, of Covington, was elected Solicitor of the Coweta Circuit. Col. Thomas Hudson, a prominent citizen, died this year; his age unknown or the day of his death. John Thurman, an old revolutionary soldier, died in Newnan, aged eighty years; also, Hill Thurman, died this year; no other deaths now recollected.

1840.—This brings that memorable year of log cabins and coon skins. Just forty years ago, a great Presidential election, as the present 1880 is now just opening of a great contest. May the present end as peaceably as that did, and our country as that did, change the great political parties, and our country be at peace as we were after that change. We had many rides on log cabins and boat races. Oars working hard with their canoes on wagons, and many other memorable things not necessary here to mention. We have rather got the cart before the horse here; we should have mentioned our election on the first Monday in January, first, then set out with our log cabins. Wm. Hogan was elected Sheriff; Batty H. Mitchell, Clerk Superior Court; Jonathan W. Lee, Clerk Inferior Court; John Hardeman, Receiver Tax Returns; Levi Newton, Tax Collector; John Kelly, Coroner; County Surveyor not recollected. The Democrats were more surprised then at Colquitt, Cooper and Black, coming to the Democratic party, than they are now over the resignation of General Gordon, and the appointment of Governor Brown as his successor. The first added considerable strength to the Democrats, the latter, I think, will be the means of uniting the party on a solid basis. We have Colquitt in each case. The saying was then that wise men sometimes change their opinions, but fools never do. I must be a very hard fool; I have been over fifty years voting for the Democrats, and don't see where I can get away from them yet. But this is getting away from the history of Coweta on to general politics; pardon the digression. We will return to Coweta. James and Frank Welch came to Newnan and started the old Transcript, and Saxon M. Anderson, an apprentice, as printer. Judge J. A. Welch has continued the printing and publishing business ever since in Newnan, and is now your leading journalist. I could not describe him as well as his journals have done to the people, were I to try. I shall leave him and his marks as his best historian. This, 1840, was also census year, as 1880. Many predictions, fault-findings, about VanBuren taxing the old women's soap, chickens and ducks, and our population, then, was little over ten thousand, in the county. I will give the number this year, when it is completed, to show our increase in population. One of our members to the Legislature, this year, was taken with a leaving in March and has never yet returned, I allude to John Jester. I learned afterwards he died near Little Rock in Arkansas. His history is not one of much credit to Coweta; though, he did represent them in the Legislature once. Thomas O. Carter was elected Colone, to fill Col. Story's place, by resignation. After all the excitement it was generally peaceable, but few fights and quarrels, considering the excitement. On the first Monday in October. For Senator, Samuel D. Echols, and Brittan Simms, for Senator, was tied, and James Bell, Sanders W. Lee and Caleb Cook were elected Representatives. On the first Monday in November the Senatorial race was run over, Echols beat Simms one vote, the votes were counted twice. After it was over Mr. Simms gave Mr. Echols his hand, told him to go represent the county. Well, he was satisfied, all was as quiet afterwards as if we had never had any storm or excitement. This is just forty years ago, and there is now but one man living, that I know of, that ever was in the Legislature from Coweta, up to that time, that is Dr. A. B. Calhoun, and but two county officers, either, recollected, now living, that is Henry Keller, and Thomas Hughey, as Sheriff, now living in Atlanta, Fulton county. All have answered their last earthly roll-call. How few, forty years from now, can say that they were here in 1880, at the Presidential election.

Thos. Pinson, a nice young man, died 1840, in Coweta, and others we don't know now of. The Legislature this fall elected William Ezzard, Judge, to succeed Hiram Warner as our Judge. Ezzard is now, I expect, the oldest judge now living in the State. He is in Atlanta; is about eighty-three years old; is Tax Receiver of Fulton County and Census Enumerator; walks as straght as Indian now. He settled in Decatur, DeKalb County, in 1823, and has resided there and in Atlanta ever since; now about fifty-eight years. I make this digression on him because he was one of our Judges. I will mention others the same way before I get through. I believe this will about close for 1840.

1841.—We begin 1841 with our elections for Judges of Inferior Courts. Samuel D. Echols, Robert Y. Brown, Turner Persons, Sanders W. Lee, Thomas Hughey, John Hardeman, R. T. R., Levi Newton, Tax Collector. This was a quiet, still year, compared with 1840. Our Governor's election, we had McDonald and Relief, and, to the surprise of both parties, the Democrats re-elected Charles J. McDonald, Governor. It was such a surprise that it was said McDonald was so busy preparing to leave the executive mansion he did not have time to prepare an inaugural address, and had to borrow Mr. Dawson's he had prepared, he was so sure of being elected he bought him a carriage in New York, he had it ordered to the Executive of Georgia, at Milledgeville; so we sometimes see there is great slips between the cup and the lips; pardon our digression for some amusement, as we may have more of such slips, I hope one this year. No particular change in business, except Col Sillman retired from the hotel business, and William U. Anderson succeeded him. Our mails, then, were carried in hacks, we thought we were rising fast, one line from Columbus to Newnan, and one from Milledgeville to Newnan, and one from Rome to Newnan, each three times per week; we now have about six mails per day, and are hardly satisfied at that, we will want one every hour, next—well, ours is a progressive age, if we don't run it too far. For fear we get off the track from Coweta, we will get back. Thomas W. Batton was made Postmaster, under Mr. Tyler, being our seventh postmaster, it being a change of administrations and politics, we had to have change of postmasters. Bowen & Rogland closed out business this year, in Newnan. Samuel C. Dickson came to Newnan, went into the grocery business with Capt. J. D. Brown.

Our elections on the first Monday in October. Dr. I. E. Smith, Senator, Sanders W. Lee, Thomas O. Carter, Nicholas Dyer, Representatives. Some changes in workmen. William U. Anderson sold his carriage shop to C. T. Wellborn, and took up carpenter busines and blacksmithing. Judge Ishmael Dunn left for Forsyth, other changes not recollected at present. Deaths: Miss Mary M. Rupe, aged 29 years and 8 months. Mr. Philip Orr, died 1841, aged 60 years.

1842—We begin this year with the elections of county officers. On the first Monday in January Richard M. Hackney was elected Sheriff; Batty H. Mitchell, Clerk Superior Court; James J. Neely, Clerk Inferior Court;

John Hardeman, Receiver Tax Returns; Charles Wood, Tax Collector; James H. Graham, County Surveyor; John Kelly, Coroner. This was a quiet year, not much change in business. Williard F. Taft enlarged his carriage business by building him a new shop. He had three pretty old salts of drinkers working for him to pay their liquor bills, and all got to talking about what they were working for and how they were spending their money and time—for what was their ruin and the impoverishing of their families—and they all just quit work and went and hunted up the officer of the Temperance Society, and each one took the pledge, and returned to their work to work out their indebtedness. Some did not hold out faithfully, but some held out to the end. All have passed off for their long home.

The election this year for members of the Legislature: Dr. I. E. Smith, Senator; Sanders W. Lee, Thomas O. Carter, Nicholas Dyer, Representatives. At the Legislature this year Thomas M. Griffin was elected Brigadier General to fill the vacancy of Gen. Willis Kilgore, resigned. Deaths—this year Randall Robinson died; he was eighty years of age.

Kinchen L. Haralson was elected Solicitor General this fall of Coweta Circuit Court.

1843—This year, as all others, will begin with the January elections—only Tax Receiver and Collectors to elect though. John Hardeman, Receiver Tax Returns, Levi Newton, Tax Collector. This year was election for Governor and two members of Congress. Alexander H. Stephens made his first speech in Newnan this year, with Walter T. Colquitt to reply to him. His friends were very much chop-fallen when Colquitt concluded. I thought they would break up in a row, but Stephens began his reply very mildly and soon had all quiet, and then turned to Judge Colquitt's attacks on him by making comparisons between their acts in the Legislature, and soon had the house in a roar of applause, and everything he said, from that time to the conclusion of his speech, was received with cheers and shouts of victory, and his friends claimed a great victory. It gave Mr. Stephens more credit and applause than any speech he ever made. All cooled off quietly in good humor.

But at the election in October, the Senator was Brittain Simms; Andrew J. Berry, John E. Robenson, John Benton, Representatives.

Some change in the hotels this year. William U. Anderson opened one where the People's Bank now is, with a carriage and blacksmith shop, with several hands. Jonathan W. Lee opened a hotel where Anderson left, on what is now Neely's corner.

Dennis F. Hammond became lawyer in our town this year, if we are not mistaken when he commenced the practice—John B. Willcoxon and H. R. Harrison—George W. Vaughan. The tailor, Mr. J., Kent, the saddler, were accedions to Newnan this year.

Charles E. Taft and Miss Miller, we think, were married this year. They moved to Mississippi.

Mr. William F. Taft died this year; James Rollins succeeded him in the saloon business. Major Hugh Brewster and Walter Smith as merchants in Newnan this year.

Deaths this year—Daniel Thompson, eighty-four years of age; Elizaz Thomp, no age given.

1844—We commence with elections on the first Monday in January. James Bixly, Sheriff; Batty H. Mitchell, Clerk Superior Court; Inferior Court, War J. Gaddice; Receiver of Tax Returns, Levi Newton, Tax Collector, John Kelly, Coroner; James H. Graham, County Surveyor.

This was a year of some changes. J. Colen came to town as cabinet and chair-maker; Peter Buchan, as watch-maker and jeweler; William Fernandez, Morton & Forbs, as cabinet and chair-makers. Mr. Forbs did not live the year out; Willis Cash, as carriage workman and Harry Goram. These are the principal changes in town; O. Linch, Esquire, T. Kirby and others in the country.

This was the great Clay and Polk election. Our country was all astir from the middle of June until after the November election. We had five barbecues in town this year and an illumination after the elections. Polk stalks and ash poles, with a Clay pole and a Polk pole with banners, and a hickory tree planted in the square. Wonder if the men could now be found who hung Zeak Polk on the hickory? They were afraid to venture high with him; hung him close to the ground, so they could run if they were seen. We had many speeches this year in Newnan by Walter T. Colquitt, Wm. H. Stiles, Hugh A. Haralson, Sampford, Wm. B. Pryor, Herschel V. Johnson, Hiram Warner, and others on the Democratic side; Alexander H. Stephens, Robert Toombs, Wm. C. Dawson, Judge Floyd, Dr. Ridley, and others on the Whig side. With the mill boy of Slashes, with a company of boys with a flag of each State; now some of the boys have grand children nearly ready to take the plow. These were memorable times to many of us who were active participants then, but most all are gone. More than half of the speakers that were here then are gone to their rest. If we would now only use half the effort we did then we would bury Radicalism so deep it would never rise again. Anderson and his boys went to Griffin to a meeting, and some to Marietta. Atlanta then was in the woods, no place to go to. No election this year for members of the Legislature.

The Hon. Hugh Buchanan became a citizen of our county, and succeeded the Rev. J. Y. Alexander in the Academy as teacher; he taught three years and retired one, and Mr. Alexander again taught one year, and Mr. Buchanan again taught one year more. President M. P. Kellogg came to our town and county this fall and settled first in the sixth district, which will be noticed more hereafter.

The illumination after the elections is or was a thing that will be remembered by many as long as they live. We never expect to witness such another time.

Edward Y. Hill was elected Judge of Coweta Circuit this year.

Mrs. Tabitha West died this year in the sixth district. No age given. J. A. Thompson two years and one month old.

We have omitted to mention the elections of Major Shell and Major Levett in the first district, and Major Daniel H. Kilgore in town and Col. James J. Neely. We should keep them up regularly as they necessarily are part of our history and county officers. True, company officers, like Justices of the Peace, should be mentioned, but we have no record of them and cannot get a correct list. We omit them entirely. Several volunteer companies should be mentioned, but we have not the officers, except the Captains, therefore we omit them.

1845.—The election for Judges of the Inferior Court—Andrew J. Berry, Robert Y. Brown, John H. Johnson, John Underwood, William B. Shell; War J. Gaddice, Receiver of Tax Returns; Levi Newton, Tax Collector. George W. Vaughn became Postmaster under President Polk.

William U. Anderson sold his carriage shop to Luckey & Potts and his blacksmith shop to William Potts. There was a gold stealing scrape in town this year; no arrests; money was all recovered; the party ran away—all, I believe, is now dead; we will mention no names.

R. H. Cannon was a merchant this year in Newnan. The Baptists and Presbyterians both built new churches this year. The Baptist church was framed, two-story high, and it was just shingled, and the workmen got down off of it, there came a storm and blew it down. Fortunately no one was hurt. It was about as complete a wreck of lumber as was ever seen. They went to work and soon had another, the present church, up, which has stood the storms ever since. I will here mention that each of the denomination have had three churches or houses of worship, and that neither is on their original church lot now. This year was our first year under Senatorial Districts system—Coweta and Meriwether was the Senatorial District. Sanders W. Lee was our Senator; Andrew J. Berry and King W. Perry was our Representatives in the Legislature. M. P. Kellogg taught school in the Sixth District, at Mount Pleasant. 1845, 1846, part of 1847, prepared Luther M. Smith and Albert Raney for Emory College, the first boys that ever graduated from any college from Coweta. Luther M. Smith returned to Coweta, taught school awhile in Coweta, afterwards became President of his Alma Mater and afterwards Chancellor of the Mississippi University. Albert Raney we will speak of hereafter, and leave Mr. Kellogg until we have more use for him in other places and other times. Dr. Needham Anger taught school in the North settlement, in Coweta, and is now living in Atlanta. James T. Morris taught in the Fourth District, Tuscan H. Ball in the Third District, Bassell Northern in the Second District, A. P. Houston, Esq., was an early teacher in the Third District, John B. Tendall, William A. Spear, John W. Powell were teachers in the Cedar Creek District, and others forgotten in those Districts. Farmer James Eckles taught in the Hurricane District. Obediah C. Cavendar was an old school teacher. If I could recollect all it would fill pages. We will mention others hereafter.

Captain John D. Brown died this year, age not known. Walter Leigh died this year; Elizabeth Strong, Matilda Pittard also, ages not given. Thomas G. Dickson died at Memphis, Tennessee, June 16, 1845. A citizen of Coweta on his return from Texas. Arthur Carmichael died April 2, 1845 aged seventy years ten months. John Johnson died December 9, 1845, aged sixty six years.

1846—This year will begin the election on the first Monday in January. Richard M. Hackney, Sheriff; Batty H. Mitchell, Clerk Superior Court; ———, Clerk Inferior Court; Reason Mobly, Tax Collector; John Kelly, Coroner; James H. Graham, County Surveyor. Only a few removals from our county this year. Gen. Willis Kilgore moved to Texas, Messrs. William Caldwell and R. A. Chambers. Wal. Clark, a young lawyer in Newnan for two or three years, made rather a secret move. We must be charitable—we had a postoffice robbery—no thief detected. Messrs. Vaughan and Kent left our county for Walker county. R. H. Cannon became postmaster on Mr. Vaughn's leaving from Newnan.

That good old man, the Rev. Humphrey Posey, died this year. He was one of the best of men, an able preacher, and his walk and conversation would convince anyone he was a good Christian, and one that everyone respected. His works will follow him. I would like to have his age, but have not got it, nor his nativity, but think he was a North Carolinian.

The Legislature this fall elected Augustus H. Ferrell Solicitor-General of our Circuit.

1847—As usual our elections on the first Monday in January. Wm. M. Storey, Tax Collector. This was a very dull year for business of all kinds. Wm. F. Storey bought out Dr. Brown at Oak Lawn and moved down there. Dr. Brown left our county. Mr. Wadsworth left his tanyard at Oak Lawn about this time, but unfortunately he did not stay long to run it. The reason why is not necessary to state here now.

Benjamin S. Tarter and William W. Sellman left our county for Alabama. Our county this year had the misfortune to have the execution of Wm. Harris by hanging for the killing of J. McCollum, the second case in our county.

Deaths this year that I know of are: Thomas Dukes, 6th district, and Young Stokes, near Corinth. No age of either given.

This will bring us to the election of members to the Legislature. Dr. Parks, of Meriwether, Senator; Peter B. Terrell, John E. Robinson, Representatives. This was the time of excitement to get our railroad from Atlanta to West Point. We procured our charter from the Legislature this year. All know its history, since we were then supplied by daily stage coaches from Atlanta to West Point, as old times. Work was soon commenced on our road, and it was completed to Newnan in 1852. But we are getting rather ahead of time. We have omitted to mention that Cullen W. Smith came into our county, bought the old Wilkins mills, on Sandy Creek, run them awhile, sold them to S. C. Dickson, and bought the old Hetton mill and made it the best flouring mill in the county; and about this time the Rev. Thomas Colbert bought the old Conyers mills, on Wahoo, and repaired them up in good style, with a good wool factory. Many other improvements we have failed to notice in their proper places, but will be noticed before we close yet.

Dr. William A. Terrell died this year; age not known. Mrs. Runale Robinson, consort of Randal Robinson, died in her 80th year; Esther Young, aged 43 years and 10 days; Michael Newman, aged 70 years; James Thompson, aged 54 years, 7 months and 11 days.

We will here mention that our Legislature changed the law, giving the election of general officers to the people, and on the resignation of Brigadier-General Thomas M. Griffin, E. M. Story was elected to fill his place as Brigadier-General. We have had the Brigadier-General's office for some time in Coweta, and we will soon get the Major-General's in Coweta, also.

1848—This brings us to the election on the first Monday in January. James Bexly, Sheriff, James M. Dodds, C. S. C., Clerk Inferior Court, William Overby, R. T. R., Aquela Hardy, Tax Collector, John Kelly, Coroner, County Surveyor, forgotten, Dr. Joel W. Terrell, County Treasurer, by appointment. This was Presidential election year, all passed off very quietly. One change in hotels this year, Hiram Camp succeeded William U. Anderson. One very singular case occurred at his house, John Murphey, Esq., formally a citizen of Coweta, came from Alabama to be treated by Dr. Calhoun, of the disease he was laboring under, and very suddenly died, in a bar-room on a couch where he was laying, without scarcely a word or groan. He passed off so quietly hardly any one knew it until he was dead, we see we hardly know when we are to go.

Hon. Hugh Buchanan has been mentioned as a teacher but not as a lawyer, he should have been mentioned sooner, but not too late; he has made his mark, and is known, if we were to omit his name altogether, but he will be mentioned otherwise before we close our short history. Deaths in 1848: Wm. N. Russell, aged 12 years. Lucinda E Russel, aged 12 years and 4 months. Campbell Atchenson, aged 50 years. Nathanel Atchenson, aged 91 years.

1849—Our elections on the first Monday in January—Andrew J. Berry, R. Y. Brown, Benjamin Leigh, Thomas Goodwin, William Nemmons, Judges Inferior Court; Aquilla Hardy, Receiver Tax Returns; I. Corly, Tax Collector; John Kelly, Coroner. This was the year of the great Killing fast. On the sixteenth day, April 18, fasted for nearly a week every morning. No particular change in business, except Mr Camp-retiring from the hotel, Mr. Anderson returning to it. William U. Anderson was turned out of the Post Office under President Taylor; succeeded by Dr. William B. Arrington. He (Arrington) was succeeded by John R. Alexander.

M. P. Kellogg taught school at the Rock Spring, in 1848 and 1849, in the Seventh District. The nearest house was a mile distant. He had over one hundred pupils, but they say he is a Yankee carpet-bagger now. Let us see if that will hold good. He has now been with us over the third of a century; has raised his family with us; spent all his money he has ever made in building up our town and country—can't carry it away if he wanted to. Where is the man that has done as much to build up your city as he has done? Then away with the charge of Yankee. Come up with your children; have them well taught, and try and pay that debt of gratitude all owe him for his labors in educating our children—make his old age comfortable. We all owe it to him if we deal justly. Whole pages might be written, but I am no eulogist of any one, but want to see fair play and justice. More will be said of him and his school.

This will bring us to the election for members of the Legislature. Dr. I. E. Smith, Senator, Dr. Joel W. Terrell and John H. Johnson, Representatives

Governor George W. Towns and Judge E. Y. Hill, both candidates for Governor, were in Newnan, September court, but no speaking. Candidates for Governor then had not got to speaking on the stump.

Mrs. Sarah Owens, consort of Davis Owens, died in the fifty-first year of her age. Captain James Anderson, the father of William U. Anderson, died in Newnan, in the sixty-ninth year of his age. His remains were carried to Marietta for burial. Now we unintentionally omitted to mention an old custom of having camp-meeting in our county. They were times of refreshing with many, and many revivals of religion from them. They were good times for the churches, but we have become too proud or something else. We cannot afford to have camp-meetings now. Perhaps it is best as we claim to be progressive, but I don't think this much progression in that line—others may think differently. I shall not attempt to correct it at present.

Other deaths 1849—John R. Tolbert, aged eighteen years seven months and twenty-seven days; Abraham Young, Sr., aged sixty-nine years, one month fifteen days; Bird Parks, aged ——— years; Philip Orr, was born January 7, 1781, died April 4, 1841.

1850—We begin this year with the election of William B. Brown as Sheriff; A. Brooks, Clerk Superior Court; John G. Morgan, Clerk Inferior Court; John Hardeman, Receiver Tax Returns; James W. Herkins, Tax Collector; John Kelly, Coroner; James H. Graham, County Surveyor.

This was the great Fire Eating or Southern Rights canvas. It pretty much broke up the old Whig party, and for the time laid the Democrats low, but after the election and the convention the Democrats determined to return to their old time-honored principles, and many Southern Rights Whigs remained with them. The delegates to that memorable convention from Coweta were Richard M. Hackney, John W. Powel, Robert W. Semmis and George Glass—all union men.

No election this year for members of the Legislature. Some changes in business. William U. Anderson retired from the hotel business, and rented his house to Caleb Cook, who occupied his old stand.

M. B. Clark became a citizen of Newnan this year, afterwards a permanent citizen of the county, who will be remembered by many as one of our best farmers and most excellent citizens until his death in Newnan.

Thomas Covington became a citizen of Newnan, and a grocery keeper. Dr. Joel W. Terrell was a prominent railroad contractor on our road from Atlanta to Newnan. Caleb Cook was also a contractor on the same road. Some new buildings were put up this year in anticipation of the railroad. Greenville street was partly built up, and some improvement on Bay street.

R. D. Cole & Co. commenced business this year on a one-horse scale, and continued in that way until 1852, when they got them a small engine, and they have continued regularly since, from one enterprise to another progressively; we shall notice them more particularly hereafter, as they progress. We omitted to notice Drs Hall & Young with their drug store, the first in Newnan. Other improvements in Newnan not now recollected.

James W. Terrell, son of Dr. J. W. Terrell, died, in his 17th year. Mrs. Martha E. Bowen died, aged 16 years. George T. Anderson died, aged 43 years. William F. Story died August 20th, aged 50 years. Silas Reynolds, born 1784, died 1850, in his 66th year. Mrs. Mary Atcheson, aged 89 years.

We should have mentioned the enlargement of our Seminary, this year, and its occupancy by M. P. Kellogg, with about two hundred pupils. He continued to teach there through 1851, 1852 and the first term of 1853, when he had two hundred and fifty pupils, since then he has been in College Temple, which we will notice hereafter more particularly.

1851.—As usual, our January elections. John Harde-man, R. T. R.; William Overby, Tax Collector; J. J. Pinson, County Treasurer, by appointment. This is quite a remarkable year for Newnan. More deaths and sickness than ever before, in one year. Peter B. Terrell, the most prominent, he was, I believe, one of the Inferior Court at his death; had been a representative in the Legislature, and filled other offices, he was born 1813, died 1851, aged 39 years. Samuel B. Bowen died, aged 27 years. Miss Alice Baldy died this year, aged 83 years, had been a constant member of the Baptist Church 66 years. In looking up these and other deaths I find a remarkable head stone to a grave, marked, sacred to my mother, aged 86 years, (now, whose mother is she?) Walter C. Brewster, aged 11 years. Mrs. Susan Ann Grace, died 1851, no age. Mrs. Elizabeth Chambers, died in 6th District, no age given. Considerable change in business. Caleb Cook bought out

Thomas W. Botten's hotel. The One Price Store was started by U. B. Willkinson, W. D. Orr and others. Mr. Davis with a grocery. Dr. J. W. Terrell wound up his railroad operations and moved to Texas with Thomas Bowen, John Askew, Cullen W. Smith in company with him. Robert Russel bought out Cullen Smith's mill when he left. Dr. Feamster was in Newnan with his drug store. Dr. Blake Brewster, I think, came to our County this year. Thomas Calbert this year built his brick store in Newnan. Col. Wm. B. W. Dent came to Newnan and made considerable improvements, his dwelling and two stores, on the LaGrange street. William Kay with his book store, John H. James as clerk. John M. Thomas and J. J. Neily as merchants, others not now recollected. Harrison J. Sargent came to our County and city, and has been a permanent citizen ever since. This will do for the business part of 1851. Will now come to the elections in October; we now change our Congressman from the Fourth District. General Hugh A. Harralson should have been mentioned as the Representative from the time the State was districted up to this time. The Hon. Charles S. Murphy, of DeKalb, was elected this year our Representative in Congress. Robert O. Beavers, Senator; Richard M. Hackney, Dr. I. E. Smith, Representatives to the Legislature. We doubtless have made some mistakes in dates, and left out many changes in business with mechanics; one we will mention now, Marion Robenson with his store out on Sitesvill street, him and Mr. Ashcraft as contractors. The names as brick masons that have been omitted unintentionally: Many Tandries, Lewis Redwines, D. P. Jones, K. W. Peny, Freeman & Dickson, James Bexly, Joseph Young, John Fleming, Storey & Thomas, and perhaps others; I believe all have suspended except Joseph Young, Mr. Burpee has succeeded Storey & Thomas. Deaths in 1851: Miss Elizabeth A. Russell, aged 21 years and 3 months. Mrs. Mary Russel, August 2d, aged 53 years and 6 months. John B. Russel, aged 31 years, 6 months and 14 days. R. B. Young aged 24 years, 10 months and 19 days. Henry Morgan died 1851, age not given. John H. Tench, aged 44 years.

1852.—Begins as usual with the January elections, Jas. Bexly, Sheriff; H. R. Harrison, Clerk Superior Court; John G. Morgan, Clerk Inferior Court; Tuscan H. Bull, Receiver Tax Returns; John C. Hide, Tax Collector. This, I think, was the first election for ordinary, Albert Raney was elected Ordinary; no report of Coroner or County Surveyor. This was a year of considerable business, and many changes in business. Our first warehouse was opened by Isaac Colyer; Rev. John G. Fry, as weigher of cotton; the Colyers abandoned their furniture shop in the country, and came to town to merchandise. Thomas Mackey, with his fine dray mules, David H. Simms with his eating house, down by the railroad, and the Messrs. Cole & Co. started their first engine in their shop, and William H. Luckey with his steam mill, at where Charmichaels shop now is; Mr. Vanhoughton as a blacksmith shop; many other changes and improvements; one we must not omit, the building of College Temple; this will long be remembered by many, who has graduated and taught in it since its building; more about it hereafter. The first cars on our railroad, came to Newnan this year; all will recollect its arrival and progress and on from that time. Col. James L. Calhoun became a citizen this year of our County and others; — — Myers. — — Hass, as merchants; J. T. Brown and William Bowen, merchants; J. T. Menis, and others.

But now we have the sad report to make of many deaths of prominent persons this year: Captain Gilbert D. Greer, aged sixty years; Robert Cole, aged seventy-four years; Mrs. Elizabeth McKoy, aged nineteen years; General Edward M. Storey, aged forty years; Samuel Dennis, Sen., seventy-five years of age; and in Mr. Samuel A. Dennis and Mr. Smith's family, on the same place, five other deaths in one month's time; Major Edward Storey, aged eighty years; Dreary Glass, age not given. William Nemmon, born 1797, died March, 1852; aged fifty-three years; Mary E. Boyd, aged nineteen years, five months; David McLin, an old respected elder of the Presbyterian Church, died August 28th, 1852. age not given. O. A. Bull was Judge of our Superior Court and — Solicitor-General. No elections this year for members of the Legislature.

1853.—The first Monday in January, William B. W. Dent, James A. Welch, Thomas M. Semms, were elected Judges of the Inferior Court; Bassett Northern, Receiver Tax Returns; James W. Harkins, Tax Collector; Marcus Glass, County Treasurer, by appointment; no Coroner or County Surveyor to report. J. Teller, J. Morris, Anderson & Rumey, as merchants, with Robenson & Wood, William B. Brown, J. A. Loftin, Hilly & Alexander, all merchants; Dr. Lucious Fambro, Dr. J. T. Curlu, Semms & Holland, Henry Harris, Wily Ward. Thomas Ward. James Furgerson, and others were accessions to Coweta this year, with others.

This will bring us to the October elections, and for the first time Coweta ever had a candidate for Congress. Col. William B. W. Dent was our candidate, and we elected him by a handsome majority. Dr. I. E. Smith, Senator;

James M. Dodds and Richmond B. Bridges, Representatives.

Col. Dent, our member to Congress, was not a professional man, but a man of fine business talents, good, sound practical mind, and one of the active, persevering men of his time; fine trader. It was said by some if he had stayed in Congress for five years, he would have bought out the Presidency and Washington, and moved the Seat of Government to the Stone Mountain, which he then owned; but his usefulness was cut short; he only served one term in Congress; his health would not permit of his attending his second term; he died September, 1855, in his — year of his age.

Judge John Underwood died in his sixty-sixth year; Mrs Mary Ball died in the Fourth District, aged one hundred and two years; the mother of Mrs. Pearsons. Israel Hindsman, eighty-one years; Mrs Ann D. Owens, consort of Davis Owens, aged forty six years; A. Shepard, age not known; James Eckles, died, aged eighty years; Joel Hainis, aged forty-six years; John Wilson, aged forty-seven years, three months 1854.—The regular election on the first Monday in January: Richard M. Hackney, Sheriff; H. R. Haneson, Clerk Superior Court; James E. Hardeman, Clerk of the Inferior Court; Basset Northern, Receiver Tax Returns; James W. Harkins, Tax Collector; James H. Graham, County Surveyor; John Kelly, Coroner.

Considerable change in business this year. Caleb Cook sold his hotel to Isaac Colyer, and he made considerable improvements to it. William U. Anderson was transferred to the penitentiary, but he did not like it much, and he asked Governor Johnson for a pardon, and he was discharged on his own recognizance. We had some excitement in our town this year. Gen. G. T. Anderson chastised a man for insulting his wife. It caused some excitement. He, Gen. Anderson, afterwards raised a company and joined the United States Army, and was sent out West, and he remained in the service of the United States until our late war commenced. He then resigned and joined our army. His history needs no repetition or praise here; it is well known in that history.

Our old friend Samuel Freeman this year made one of them seventy-five lawyers we spoke of before, and has ever since been an honorable citizen, known to all. I could say nothing to add to his praise, and leave his acts and his works as his best praise. Dr. Bruce, another citizen and physician, should have been mentioned before. He remained with us several years and moved to Thomasville.

This year was the great political excitement over the Know Nothing or Native Americans in politics. They charged them of meeting in Kigg Creek Swamp, mountains, Creek Hill, New River bottoms, Whiteoak Hollow, Shoal Creek caves, Sewel's mill pond, and other places in the county to hold their midnight lodges, as they were charged then. Such meetings would now astonish politicians of to day. The truth of the charges, I shali not vouch for, never being at one of their meetings; will leave them as things of the past, as they have served their day as many other things of the past.

Major M. Kendrick should have been mentioned last year as a lawyer in Newnan. More will be said of him hereafter.

There being no election this year for members of the Legislature, we will close our report with the deaths we have for the year.

Samuel V. Harlin, age not known; Jacob L. Abrahams, age not known; Wootson Rainey, 6th district, age not known; Robert Russell, aged 60 years and 7 months; Silas Domenick, aged 23 years and 5 months; Mrs. G. Domenick, aged 18 years; Mrs. Mariah Domenick, aged 42 years.

At the election for Judge of the Superior Court, Obediah Warner was elected Judge. He only served, I think, one year. Solicitors will be given in the end altogether 1855—On the first Monday in January John Strickland was elected Receiver Tax Returns; James H. Harkins, Tax Collector; Woodson L. Leggon, County Treasurer by appointment. This year our county was thoroughly canvassed. We had for the Senate the Hon. Hugh Buchanan and Hon. William F. Wright; Hon. John S. Bigby, Hon. Richmond B. Bridges, Hon. Glen O. Winn and the Hon. William Amis for Representatives; Hon. Hiram Warner and Hon. B. H. Hill for Congress. Many will recollect the canvass on Saturday before the election. We had a large barbecue. We had the day before raised a large liberty pole, and then marched on in the morning to the barbecue. About one hundred and fifty young ladies and gentlemen, on horseback, made a splendid show. Some says it carried the election for the Democrats. All of them were elected—Warner for Congress, Buchanan for Senator, Winn and Amis for Representatives. Such things will have great influence in elections. I have mentioned all the opposing candidates this year, because it was so closely canvassed and so much speaking. Never has there been such since or before in the county.

No particular change in business now recollected, except that Mr. Colyer sold his hotel to a company; it was kept by Dr. Bruce. Other business about as usual.

The deaths this year—Colonel W. B. W. Dent, November, 1855; age not given. Alfred Baiden died June 19, 1855, aged thirty years; Gabriel Grogan, July 26, aged twenty-two years; Netty S. Nemmons born 1839, died 1855, aged sixteen years; Zachariah Williamson died July 4, age not given; Judge William Spratlin, age not given.

This fall your author concluded to visit Florida with his son Thomas and two or three others, and he purchased a farm, left his son in charge of it, returned home and prepared to move to the Land of Flowers, but did not get off until the next February, and remained in Florida for six years. His history will have to be made by others mostly for that time. It looks like a county is a very small space for to locate a history and to give even a partial account of the transactions. When you look over it you find you have left out more than you have written, and written much that ought to be left out, and when we get through it will be in many respects very imperfect. This will close for the present.

1856—On the first Monday in January, Bully H. Mitchell Ordinary, James L. Calhoun was elected Sheriff; William J. Harkis, Clerk Superior Court; Joseph Beavers, Clerk Inferior Court; Andrew Brown, Receiver Tax Returns; John D. Thurman, Tax Collector; Alexander Carlton, County Surveyor; John Kelly, Coroner. Not much of a report to make this year. William U. Anderson, Marshal Morton and James Hicks all move from Coweta to Florida this year. Mr. Morton is there yet, I think. Dr. Fernander also went to Florida, but soon died down there. Anderson stayed in Florida until 1862, returned to Coweta. No election this fall for members of the Legislature, nor no particular change in business to notice. Deaths—Mrs. Mary Tolbert, aged fifty six years six months, eight days.

On the first Monday in January, Andrew J. Berry, Robert Y. Brown, Andrew Brown, Tax Receiver; ———, Collector. Several changes in business. Mr. P. Fears, merchant in Newnan, made good improvements in dwelling house. The Rev. James Stacy, D. D., became a citizen of Newnan and our county this year and the regular pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Newnan and White Oak, and has been pastor and is now pastor of said churches. His history is known now over twenty-five years. His labors and religious character is a better eulogy than my feeble pen and will speak for himself. Ransom, Alexander & Nemmens, merchants, William A. Potts in the tanning business, and other changes.

Our death list this year is larger than common. The Reverend Josiah Y. Alexander, born in North Carolina, December 10, 1792, died 1857. He served in our town twenty-seven years. His labors as a teacher and minister is well recollected by many. His upright walk is a pattern for all true Christians to follow. We could say much him. Mrs. Caroline E. Morris, consort of J. T. Morris, aged 34; Miss Elizabeth Lee, daughter Sanders W. Lee, Mrs. Susan S. Calhoun, consort of Dr. A. B. Calhoun, aged forty-four years; Mrs. Mary Willcoxon, consort of Colonel J. B. Willcoxon, age not given; Hilla Raney, age not given; William R. Bowen, aged thirty years; Mrs. Martha A. Smith, consort of Stephen D. Smith, age not given; Mrs. Emily Park Berry, consort of A. J. Berry, Esq., aged forty-nine years; William E. Tolbert, aged thirty years, two months, thirteen days; James Young, aged fifty-four years, eight months; Mrs. Elizabeth Banks, aged seventy-four years, eight months.

C.; Christopher Smith, Coroner; County Surveyor, unknown; Batty H. Mitchell, County Treasurer, by appointment. Not living in the the county at this time, have not much to report; but Mr. Thomas Swent was a prominent merchant, not before mentioned. Hon. Hugh Buchanan resigned as Senator and Col. J. B. Wilcoxon was elected to fill his place; the first member ever resigned from Coweta. Some deaths to record this year. Mrs. Mary E. Arrington, aged 30 years. Mrs. Sarah Wellborn, born 1778 and died 1853, aged 80 years. Miss Hunter, daughter of Col. J. B. and Mrs. A. J. Hunter, born 1841, died 1858, aged 17 years. Carmical, aged 14 years. Mrs. Sarah Carmical, aged 59 years.

1859.—On the first Monday in January John A. Beavers was elected R. T. R.; Robert Orr, Tax Collector. Some change in business. Mr. P. Fears, a merchant, closed business, and Mr. Herrin sold out and moved to Texas, and other changes. The Rev. Robert Fleming built the Kerby House on the corner, and the Masonic Lodge and Dr. Reese, and other improvements this year in Newnan.

The election on the first Monday in October. Glenn O. Winn was elected Senator; J. J. McClendon and Elijah

Martin, Representatives; L. J. Gartrell elected to Congress. Some deaths this year to report. Miss Ada Tomlinson, born 1836, died 1859, aged 23 years. Captain George Smith, a gallant officer in the war of 1812, died 1859, aged 75 years.

Harkins, Receiver Tax Returns; Seaborn J. Shropshire, Tax Collector; Christopher Smith, Coroner; Pierce Sewell, County Surveyor. This was census year and Presidential election. Thos. O'Carter, I believe, enumerator. The census was 14,703. No election for members of the Legislature. Not much change of business recollected.

Deaths—Holly Harris, aged 46 years.

1861—On the first Monday in January Andrew J. Berry, Robert Y. Brown, Anthony North, Asa Huggins and James A. Welch were elected Judges of the Inferior Court; Wm. J. Harkins, Receiver Tax Returns; Willis B. Moore, Tax Collector. This was the year of secession. The delegates from Coweta were Dr. A. B. Calhoun, Joseph J. Pinson, Major William B. Shell. The action of the convention need not be mentioned here, as it is well remembered by most every child in the country, but as we are writing history, perhaps for many years to come, the convention passed the ordinance of secession; that with other States caused our late civil war, too familiar to all to need anything from me in this sketch of Coweta. We will, if we can, procure the names of all the soldiers from Coweta county in that war. Insert them that they may be remembered by ages yet unborn.

This was a year that will long be remembered in the history of Coweta, as she furnished the first company in the regiment from the State of Georgia, whose name will be found in our work before we get through.

On the first Monday in October Gaskin, of Meriwether, was elected Senator from this Senatorial District, Joseph T. Brown and Tallison Kirby, Representatives in the Legislature.

The deaths of 1861 we have to record are: Mr. John M. Thurmond, who died in Virginia, a volunteer from Coweta; Mrs. Kate Greenwood, in her 34th year; Mrs. Mary Jane Stacy, wife of Dr. James Stacy, age not given; Mr. David H. Thurmond, volunteer in Virginia; Marcus W. North and Marcus A. North, ages not given; James P. Russell, aged 20 years 3 months; G. B. Carmichael, aged 25 years 10 months.

Much might be said about the war and our brave soldiers, but time and space here will not permit. It must be left to the general historian.

1862.—On the first Monday in January, elected ———, Receiver Tax Returns; ———, Tax Collector; Henry K. Allen, Sheriff; John Munn, Clerk Superior Court; William Goldberry, Clerk of Inferior Court; Pierce Sewell, County Surveyor; C. Smith, Coroner.

The author's family returned from Florida to Newnan. He was discharged from the army at Murphreesborough, on Green river, in Kentucky, and returned to Newnan. All business was pretty well suspended during the war. No particular changes to notice this year.

Perry, formerly a member of the Legislature from Coweta, aged fifty-five years; Captain John Musgrove, Forty-first Texas Regiment, outside Soldier's Cemetery; Thomas J. Blance, of Cedartown, was Solicitor. No change in business this year to notice.

On the first Monday in October, John H. Johnson was elected Senator; William F. Wright and Tolison Kirby, Representatives.

Our county began to feel the pressure of the war, and many seeing hard times while their husbands, fathers and sons were in the war, but all bore it bravely with a few exceptions of such as shrunk from duty and were sympathizers with the enemy. In my opinion they deserve a more lasting stigma and disgrace than the Tories of the Revolutionary war. It may be harsh judgment and expression, but it is my honest opinion publicly expressed, let it cut where it may, but it is over; we were overpowered—not whipped, we submit and make the best we can of it.

The deaths we have to record this year is Lieutenant E. M. Storey, born August 25th, 1834 killed at Harristown, Maryland, July 9th, 1863, in the 29th year of his age. Mrs. Elizabeth Cole died, aged 84 years. Mrs. Pearson, no age given. Mrs. Jane Jones, no age given. Mrs. Mary Herrin, born in North Carolina, died 1863, aged 74 years. Johnson, the only member we have ever had to record the death of, whose vacancy had to be filled by an election; Col. John M. Hill was elected to fill out his term. Major M. Kendrick, a brave, gallant officer in the defense of his country, fell at Kennesaw Mountain August 30th, 1864, aged 30 years. May his memory be long cherished by his many friends, and his noble example followed by his young friends. We have one sad account to record in our city and county this year, it is the killing of Thomas Hackney and Ale Corly by Joel W. Berry, but we will draw the mantle of charity over it and let it pass without further comments. Other deaths this year: Mrs. Catharine Echols Standifer, died November, aged 73 years. Mrs. H. E. L. Brewster, born 1817, died 1864, aged 47 years. Mrs. Mary Ball died in the Fourth District, aged 102 years, the mother of Mrs. Pearson, who furnished me the information of her age. Mr. J. T. Morris went to Tennessee and died, his age unknown. Brellen Simms, an old citizen, died this year, age unknown. Samuel W. Jones died 1864, no age given. Mr. William M. Martin, no age given. Young, Tax Collector; Daniel Swent, County Treasurer by appointment. This was the year of Gen. Lee's surrender. Our soldiers all returned home and began to take on citizenship again after a four years war, many of them without a dollar to begin with; but to their credit they did not set down to grieve over their losses and the lost cause, but like true soldiers, as they were in the war, they went to fighting Gen. Green, the only employment open to them, and some of them made good crops, and our county has steadily improved ever since, and in a few years more we will be all right and the losses of the war will be passed over as a thing forgotten, and our country will be prosperous and happy if we will only persevere.

The election for members of the Convention of 1865, William F. Wright, Dr. I. E. Smith and W. W. Thomas were our delegates. The convention abolished slavery and repudiated war debts and State currency for the support of the war, and many other debts; several for supplies to soldiers' families while their husbands and fathers were in the war. If justice was yet to be done many of those debts ought to be paid, but it is past and gone, let it go.

Our members to the Legislature were: William A. Turner, Senator; J. E. Stallings and John Tench, Representatives.

Wright, both from Coweta County, is why we mention both. Mr. Bigby was the third member in Congress, from Coweta; Judge Buchanan not allowed to take his seat.

We ought to have noticed the building up of the west side of the Public Square with brick buildings, when the wooden buildings were burned out in 1864, also we ought to have noticed the burning of the Seminary in 1864, and is not yet rebuilt. Other things we have omitted. Our readers must pardon us for omitting for the want of correct information and from forgetfulness together, but as things occur to our mind we will mention them if they are a little out of order or in their proper place.

Mr. Walbert, a tinner, bought out Mr. Reynold's tin shop and carried on the tinning business for some time and made some good improvements in our city, but sold out and left like many others. If all had have stayed with us, our town would not be large enough to hold them; and we should notice Mr. Reynolds, after selling his tin-shop his purchasing what is now the Virginia House, or rather, the ground where it stands, after it was burned out, and building the present building; but he, as others, as soon as he got his building ready for use, sells out and goes West.

We must not forget to mention that the Hon. William F. Wright was appointed Judge of the Coweta Circuit to succeed Judge Bigby, when he was elected to Congress, and served nearly two years as Judge.

Harris elected to Congress. This fall the Hon. Hugh Buchanan was appointed Judge to succeed Judge Wright, and if I mistake not, Mr. Adams our Solicitor, died, and A. H. Cox, of LaGrange, was appointed to succeed him. George Broom, John M. Anderson, went West. Mr. Broom done like Guy Rivers, before he forgot where he left off returned. J. M. Anderson is yet in Texas. Well, now about this time, from the pressure in the money market, failures began to show themselves, and merchants and others begin to take homesteads and go into bankruptcy. I shall mention no names, but all will recollect how business changed and what hard times it was for several years. We are hardly over it yet, but are improving considerably; all we need is stout hearts and strong arms and willing minds to say, "Hold, and hold on," and we will get all right soon. Fortunes are not made honestly in a year nor two years, but by perseverance and time.

Deaths this year—Jesse C. Wooten, born 1836, died 1875, aged 39 years; Miss Elizabeth Stegall died April, 1875, aged 64 years; Ephriam R. Calhoun, born September 9, 1854, died 1875, aged 21 years; Daniel Meadows, born December 28, 1779, died March 1, 1875, aged 96 years. He and his wife lived together 72 years as man and wife. Mrs. F. Harris was elected to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District. The pressure in business continued. Several houses closed out and firms changed. Some removals from our county and some to it, that we did not lose any now in population.

Some deaths that we have no reports of—Richard M. Hackney, former Sheriff and Representative in the Legislature, and filled other places of honor and profit, died June 4, 1876, aged 72 years; Jane N. This year the Legislature passed an act calling a Constitutional Convention at the election for delegates. Hons. Hugh Buchanan and Lucius H. Featherstone were elected delegates from Coweta county.

At the ratification election and for members of the Legislature under the new constitution, Hon. — Duncan, from Douglas, was elected Senator, William A. Turner and J. D. Semms Representatives, and are still our representatives. That Legislature will long be remembered as the investigating and impeachment Legislature, but we must not run out of our own county, we will get back in 1878. We had no elections for anything in our county. All quiet. But few deaths—Rev. H. F. Smith died May, 1878; Mrs. Nancy Cary, no age given; Miss Luanna Russell, aged 23 years, 10 months 11 days; Joseph Gabul, aged 32 years; Mrs. Amanda A. This year business began to improve and we had some new firms and individual business houses in our town and county, B. Wilkenson, Bradley & Co., Dent & Sharp, Black & Camp, Anderson, Smith & Co., J. Z. Kirby, with his brick livery stable. Many other changes in town. J. M. Brisco selling out to T. W. Saxon and down in Senoia several new houses much improvements generally.

In Grantville several changes and business improvements.

Other changes in our county. So you see we are not permanent; on the move constantly; we want to go West.

1880.—No election this year to report, either County or Legislature. Before we will close it is Presidential election, Governor, Members of Congress and Legislature, but we close before any of them takes place. It is also census year. This is and will be a year that will be remembered long as well as the Presidential election of 1840 and of 1844. There will not be so much excitement with barbecues, log cabins, Polk stalks and Clay poles, but there is more principle, and we will have exciting times all over the country, but we must confine ourselves to Coweta county to show how Coweta is or will be exciting. The death list will cause many to reflect just now. Look; the year is not yet half gone, and we have three deaths to record, nearly one hundred years each; i. e. Miss Francis B. Wortham, died March, 1880, aged ninety-nine years; Mr. Elijah Summers, — aged ninety-six years; Mrs. Mary Shell, May 21, 1880, — aged ninety-two years, making aggregate of 287 years, only lacking thirteen years to make each of them centenarians, and all died within three months of each other in one county; Mr. A. M. Hartsfield died in January, 1880; Simeon A. Whatly, aged sixty-seven years; Mrs. Sharp, aged —, died September 20, 1880; Mrs. John Williams, an early settler in our county, age not known: Mrs. Caroline Underwood Jones, aged sixty-seven years, one of Coweta's earliest settlers, I think in 1826; Mr. Robert Orr, an old settler, aged sixty-seven years; Christopher B. Brown one of Coweta's first settlers, in 1826, lived on the same place for fifty-four years, and one of the court who let the contract to build our courthouse, in 1829, aged about eighty years, a member of the Baptist Church sixty years; Mrs. Thomas G. Lang, aged sixty-six years; Mrs. Nancy Moses, born 1795, died 1880, eighty-five years of age; Mr. Herbert Hall, aged — years; Miss Mary McLane, of Senoia, aged —; Mrs. B. S. Askew, aged years —; Mrs. William H. Stokes, Sixth District, aged years —; Mr. Micajah Carrington, aged eighty-one years; Mr. William Walker, promising young man, age not known.

Since writing the above our elections have taken place for 1880, and resulted in the election of J. M. Willson Senator, and U. B. Wilkinson and Wm. A. Post Representatives. The November election is over also, and the Hon. Hugh Buchanan, of Newnan, is elected by 2,656 votes over Mr. Pou, independent, which winds up all elections we have to report in our little work. We will now turn to other matters.

Now, as we have partially gone through our county by each year as near as we could recollect and from the best information we could get, I here notice some things left out of the first. We will notice M. P. Kellogg, coming to our town almost penniless, without friends or acquaintances, but with a good resolution and strong constitution, he went to work, and his labors in the Sixth District and at Rock Springs and in the Seminary in Newnan, is mentioned above. We will now notice his building of College Temple in 1853. He opened school in it, and has continued to teach there ever since. For me to undertake to give anything like a correct account of it would be impossible for one no better posted than I am, but I think I can say with some degree of certainty he has averaged one hundred pupils each year, with an average of ten graduates each year. Many have been taught without fee or reward, except to feel and know that none have been turned off for their poverty. College Temple has added more to Newnan than any other institution in the place, and is the result of an individual, by his own exertions, and from the patronage given him from his merits as a teacher. It should have been more, but he has made no complaint or begged assistance from the public. He has broken himself down, and is about to retire for awhile. We hope his successor may be as successful as he has been. We doubt whether any could excel him under the circumstances. Coweta should be proud of College Temple, and respect its founder, no matter where he may go. His works are here and cannot be removed. Were the destroyer, fire, to come and destroy the buildings, it cannot destroy the many shining lights he has sent out from it, as bright as any from any college, that will live and be remembered for ages to come, that will point back to College Temple as their Alma, where they received the education that enabled them to teach others besides their children the true ways of life. Its history is too fresh and too well known for me to add anything to its praise or merits. It will be remembered and cherished, as before stated, when my head is cold and forgotten.

The next teacher I will notice, and will here say he ought to have been first mentioned, was the Rev. J. Y. Alexander, who taught our children in the Seminary for fourteen years. All recollect how faithfully he labored for our children as a teacher and minister. He laid a solid foundation for others to build upon. Many useful men and ladies were turned out from his tuition that are now filling many important places in church and State, and can look back with pride to their old teacher in Newnan, from 1831 to the time he closed his labors as teacher, and say of a truth, he labored honestly for their good. This might be extended to almost any length, but it is not for a eulogy that I am writing, it is only for short historical facts, leaving eulogies to others more competent.

The next one I shall notice is or was a little Yankee, that looked like he ought to have had his legs insured to save his body, came to our town poor, and succeeded the Rev. Mr. Alexander in our Academy, and taught there four years. All will recollect his success as a teacher. He gave general satisfaction as a teacher while teaching. He studied law, and took up the practice of the law, and is now your honored Judge of the Superior Court of Coweta Circuit.

Mr. John A. Fleming, as teacher in the Female Academy, a successful teacher, but not so long or noted as the others mentioned, but a good teacher.

The Rev. Robert Fleming succeeded him as teacher and taught several years successfully, and was for several years pastor of the Baptist Church. His history ought to be retained, and remembered, and respected for his noble work. He was an acceptable preacher and pure teacher, many can bear record that are now living in our midst.

Lyman Griswald, another teacher not named, had some distinction as a teacher, but has left us, do not know his whereabouts, but has left the same name or recollection, as the others named.

The Rev. J. B. S. Davis, was a teacher in the Seminary. I don't know how long now ; but has done as many others, abandoned teaching for the law.

Mr. Daniel Walker has held on about as long as any, except Mr. Kellogg, and is favorably known as a teacher, and his abilities are hard to excel, and is to-day amongst our best teachers. As a citizen and gentleman he has few equals, and deserves well of the community where he has spent the prime of his life to build up our city. Such men are few and far between, and scarcely ever are duly appreciated.

The next we notice is, the Rev. T. N. Rhodes, a gentleman and fine scholar, a good educator and an acceptable minister. If we had many more such our County would be much better, and we should be proud of all such and encourage them to remain with us, for their loss would be hard to fill.

We must not pass by our female teachers in Newnan. Miss Mary Alexander has taught long and has been a fine teacher, all on her own account ; built her own house, has sustained her character as a teacher, to the satisfaction of her patrons. I doubt whether she receives that respect her merits demand. We wish her great prosperity.

We must not pass Miss I. Lundy by, for her school is an honor to her for her perseverance and untiring diligence to serve her patrons, and the pupils under her charge. She should be encouraged to continue her work.

Mrs. Jennie Nemmons taught for several years successfully, with general satisfaction to her employers, and was respected by her pupils. Has given up teaching, now, for domestic life.

Misses Pendergrast & Moses' school should have a fair showing, both as teachers and the number of pupils daily under their charge. They are worthy teachers, deserve well of the public.

William S. Beadle taught in our County successfully for several years, but has left us for Fayette county.

Mr. M. L. Carter taught school for several years in Newnan very successfully, but has abandoned teaching and is now your principal book and stationary supply.

The names of many other teachers are not mentioned, who have taught in our County and towns. It is for the reason I do not know their proper names and where they taught. I would gladly insert all if I had their names and character of their schools ; hope yet to procure reports from several before I close. I will mention two successful teachers that used to be in our county, but are both called to their long home. I allude to Mr. Looney and Mr. McMichael. The schools of Senoia and Grantville I hope to be able to report yet, with others.

From the above table you will see our county has as many old people in it as any county with the same population—74 persons whose ages will average 83 years. This is according to official census returns, and not guess work, which shows that our people live as long as any other people, and the health of our county generally good. One old man, a revolutionary soldier, lived to be 105 years old. It was William Smith ; used to be called Old Hell Nation, from his use of the word "Hell Dam, Good Lord," to most everything he said. But few people knew him by any other name than Helnation. I will here mention another old revolutionary soldier, John Neely, who died at 93 years of age ; had nine scars from wounds received in the war. One other not mentioned. Mr. — Culpepper, who died at about 85 years. He drew a lot of land in the 6th district. They returned it as a fraudulent draw, but could not show it a fraud, and he held his land.

I have no doubt I have left out many other things that should be mentioned. It would afford me great pleasure to make a more correct and complete history, but I have done the best I could, and must hasten to conclude. Much information can be gained from the list of tax payers, and the table, here compiled, which is referred to, is as follows :

DISTRICTS.	Land owners	Number of land owners.	Defaulters.	Aggregate.	Number who pay nothing but poll tax	Whole number tax payers, merchants, firms, administrators, executors.
First District.....	126	192	20	338	42	459
Second District.....	82	87	7	176	24	231
Third District.....	53	85	2	140	21	178
Fourth District.....	58	79	6	153	28	196
Fifth District.....	126	160	286	56	497
Sixth District.....	35	58	3	114	27	151
Seventh District.....	30	38	5	73	13	99
Cedar Creek District.....	39	48	2	89	7	139
Panther Creek District...	46	59	2	107	18	139
Hurricane District.....	22	33	55	20	75
Grantville District.....	38	57	95	13	130
Total.....	673	906	47	1,622	269	2,394

The above table will show the number of land owners that are voters—673, and 906 that are not land owners who are voters, with 47 defaulters, who are all not land owners, making 953 that are not land owners, to 673 that are land owners; little over one third are land owners of the whites in the county. This would afford considerable comment if we were disposed to indulge in it, but we leave others to make what comment they choose. Two hundred and sixty-nine of those who own no land pay no tax except poll tax, and if it was run out, about the same number do not pay taxes on $25 worth property. All can see for themselves by reference to the tax lists.

The tax list will afford much information for our statesmen to legislate upon. I will not indulge in any remarks here only to say there needs much improvement by those in authority and are more competent than I am to make the suggestions needed. Examine the tables and names of tax payers, old merchants' names, with directory of the county, you get more information in relation to your passed and present than five times the cost of the little tract. The following are the concluding pages on general information of your business, churches, etc., and I think you will agree with me that we need a more correct history for the future than we have of the present, for which I wish you a more competent historian than I am.
